Merchants Set Precedent with Decision to Subsidize Loop Bus

"It's an important 'first' in the relationship between Borough government and businesses in the center of town."

That's the way Everett B. Garretson, owner of Clayton's, talks about the $1,825 Princeton merchants have pledged to help keep the Loop Bus running through the end of this year.

If Mercer Metro, the county's bus system, will indeed take over operation of the Loop this calendar year, the Borough will add budget money to the contribution of the merchants and keep the buses rolling until Mercer moves into the driver's seat.

Borough Council unanimously agreed on this course of action at its meeting last week. Council stipulated that Mercer must tell Princeton by August 1 when it plans to take over. But Gus Escher, who formulated the resolution Council adopted, says the date is a flexible one.

"We need lead time--about a month--to get schedules worked out, notify Suburban Transit that Mercer is taking over," he points out, "Our intent is to fund the bus during the early fall until Mercer takes over."

Merchants entered the picture when Borough Council member Murray Medvin, who says he was inspired by the current volunteerism crusade of his colleague, Martin P. Lombardo, went to the new Princeton Borough Merchants Association some two weeks ago and asked the merchants if they could -- and would -- help keep the Loop bus until Mercer's new buses arrived.

"In only two days," Mr. Medvin says, "they raised more than $1,500. They were so enthusiastic -- they even wanted us to keep the Loop running in the summer." (Buses are scheduled to stop the end of May and resume after Labor Day.)

As of now, the kitty holds $1,825. Palmer Square, Inc., has pledged $1,000; Clayton's, Nassau Interiors and Davidson's Market, each $200; Langrock's, $100; Bellows, Inc., $75 and Stone's Linen Shop, $25.

Attorney Reeves Hicks drafted an agreement, stipulating that the offer is contingent upon Council's provision of $2,675, and upon Mercer's take-over no later than December 1. The Township has agreed to put up its $4,500 share.

"Princeton is our Number One priority," said Daniel Manella, executive director of Mercer Metro, in a letter to municipal officials dated March 9. In that letter, Mr. Manella wrote that he expects delivery of large buses in August and the smaller buses for Princeton in October; however, he said, if he gets the large buses first, he will begin Princeton runs immediately and not

Freeze on Some School Salaries Proposed As Means of Cutting $205,800 from Budget

A proposal to save $205,800 in school expenses by freezing all school salaries over $14,000 was made Tuesday night by Gus Escher, Borough Council member who is chairman of the three-member Council sub-committee (Nelson van den blink and Martin P. Lombardo are the others) named to take apart the defeated school budget and put it back together again.

Mr. Escher made it plain to the audience of school board members, teachers – and four or five citizens – that it was he, himself, who "very strongly recommends" this action. The two others on the sub-committee, he said, hadn't come to any conclusions.

The sub-committee also asked Borough Council and Township Committee to consider a total freeze on salaries of the nine administrators who serve the whole school system; for a saving of $15,300. If all salaries in the entire school district were frozen, Mr. Escher said, the saving would be $353,000.

Borough and Township governing bodies have until this Friday to make their budget-cutting recommendations. They will hold a public meeting this Thursday (8 p.m. Borough Hall) to take final action on the recommendations discussed Tuesday night and at public hearings last Sunday afternoon and evening.

The sub-committee itself met for four hours Tuesday afternoon to shape the suggestions made by townspeople at Sunday's meetings. It was one of many long meetings held by the three-member group since its appointment following the budget's defeat March 2. Some 100 citizens of Borough and Township filled Borough Hall Sunday afternoon to comment on the budget and offer their advice.

Salaries Too High. "Administrative salaries are clearly out of line," said Township Mayor Jay Bleiman Tuesday night. He pointed to a range of $24,700 to $32,300, and a cluster in the $25,700 to $28,500 range. He said the salaries were higher than those of the Township municipal staff, like the chief of police and various administrators. He recommended holding all salaries to a five per cent increase.

Mr. Escher said Princeton's instructional cost per pupil was $1,581, compared to $887 for Hamilton Township and $1,145 for West Windsor. Administrative salaries were too high, and he said that consideration of cuts here was "a crucial part of the case we must present to the public."

Joan Doig, school board member in charge of negotiations, warned the two governing bodies that negotiations "are farther along than you seem to grasp," and she recited the tight schedule imposed by a new state law.

"A good part of the budget – about 80 per cent of it – is tied up in contracts before the voters even get to it," she said, adding that the New Jersey School Boards Association had unsuccessfully lobbied against passage of the law requiring a pre-budget negotiation pattern.

She said other districts, where negotiations have been completed, are granting eight per cent salary increases. "Princeton is comparable – not higher," she told the town officials.

Princeton's problem, she continued, is that it's an "old" district: 63 per cent of Princeton's teachers are at the top of the salary guide. In new districts like East Windsor, she said, most teachers cluster at the bottom of the salary scale.

Representatives of the Princeton Regional Education Association, the teachers' union, have been in the audience for these hearings.

Cawley Backs Bleiman. Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley joined Mayor Bleiman in saying that administrative salaries were too high, and he said that consideration of cuts here was a "crucial part of the case we must present to the public."

Township Committee representatives Elizabeth Hutter and Margaret Broadwater opposed the freeze at a $14,000 salary level.

In other recommendations, the sub-committee lined up savings of $28,500 by eliminating the personnel administrator, $9,100 through the elimination of his secretary and $14,200 by removing the office manager for the business administrator.

Cutting out two assistant principals at the high school – recommended last year, but not followed by the school board – would save a minimum of $30,000 and a possible $50,000, Mr. Escher said.

Making five percent cuts in the $810,000 plant operation budget and the $288,400 plant maintenance budget – $40,500 and $14,400 cuts respectively – would bring a saving of $54,900. Mayor Bleiman said five per cent was too steep a cut, and suggested two-three percent.

The touchy matter of sabbaticals also came under discussion. The sub-committee recommended wiping them all out for a saving of $78,500. But Mrs. Doig said next year's sabbaticals were approved in January, and money committed under the present teacher's contract.

"There is some criticism of the board for not having held back on sabbaticals in these austere times," Mayor Bleiman chided, "the board did not have to grant any at all."

Mr. Escher promised to find out whether the board is legally obligated to give the sabbaticals – or only morally obligated.

If football players and other athletes buy their own shoes, $3,700 could be saved, and if athletes take home their own uniforms for laundering, another $2,500 could be found.

"The majority of kids can afford these things," observed Council member Jan Schneier, "and a lot of Borough people have to pay school taxes when they don't even have kids in school."

This Is PRINCETON

HIGH COST FORESEEN

For Sewage Disposal. "It's like a gigantic football game," said an exasperated Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week, "between environmentalists concerned about growth on one side, and environmentalists concerned about water pollution on the other. And we're caught in the middle."

The mayor was speaking at his press conference, in advance of this Wednesday's public hearing before the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority on the environmental assessment report.

"Sewerage is going to be our most expensive local service," the mayor warned.

He outlined a study now under way by Borough Engineer George Olexa to see what these costs may turn out to be. Mr. Olexa is taking local purpose taxes, water charges and sewer charges and working with them to project costs.

"We want an overall average, and a range," the mayor explained. "I suspect there are homes paying very high taxes, with water and sewer charges that are very low – a widow living alone in a big house on Library Place, for example. And then big families whose taxes are relatively low, but who have to run the washing-machine and the dishwasher practically all day. I hope to show the state that we have a very special need here in Princeton."

The mayor also referred to the "maddening" situation in the whole area of the Authority: effluent that must be treated to a high degree of purity because it's alternative drinking-water; a downstream nucleus (Princeton, West Windsor, etc.) that's densely populated while upstream has towns "miles apart" plus uncertainty as to whether proposed spray irrigation upstream will work.

"Problems like these mean dollar signs" the mayor said ruefully.

Loop Bus

wait for delivery of the smaller buses.

"If we had the buses today," he wrote, "we'd take over tomorrow".

Mr. Medvin's offer from the merchants met immediate opposition from four of the six Council members when he presented it to the agenda meeting customarily held the Thursday before Council's meeting.

Only Mr. Lombardo, who congratulated Mr. Medvin on his initiative, joined him in the informal vote, although Council member Nelson van den Blink said Mr. Medvin's idea was "Marvelous!" and added, "I'm impressed," but expressed concern about putting public money into something "not used that much."

BUS BACKED: Princeton merchants' pledge of $1,825 to help keep the buses running is handed to Mayor Robert W. Cawley by Everett B. Garretson (in light coat). Next to Mr. Garretson is Ralph Hulit Jr., chairman of the Princeton Borough Merchants' Association, and next to Mayor Cawley is Councilman Murray Medvin, whose idea it was. Fred Blaicher, president of Palmer Square, Inc., is between Mr. Medvin and Mr. Hulit, and Ellen Hodges, executive of the chamber of Commerce, is on Mayor Cawley's right. Sydney Taggart, Loop Bus co-ordinator, is at the far right. Others, left to right, are Jack Yeoman, treasurer of Palmer Square, Freeholder Barbara Sigmund, Burt Sussman, owner of Stone's Linen Shop, and Irving Urken of Urkens' Hardware.

True Cost Hidden. Council member Jan Schneier referred to "that bus!" and said she didn't think the piecemeal way of financing the bus, three months at a time, revealed its true annual cost. Joseph Moore said he suspected that Mr. Medvin's actions were forcing Council's hand, and he said he wanted to be sure the merchants – or any group -- weren't compelling Council to act.

Gus Escher, one of Council's two freshmen, proposed a resolution based on the merchants' offer, but it ended in stalemate. Later, Mr. Escher said this week, he discovered through talks with his colleagues on Council, that there might be more agreement than originally supposed.

"I myself am more supportive of the Loop than is generally known," he observed.

Also, Ed Sweeney, a pillar of Princeton's Democratic community for more than a generation and now president of the Princeton Senior Citizens Club, rallied his senior colleagues to Mr. Escher's support. Sydney Taggart, bus co-ordinator, provided Council with statistics; so did Township Committee member Elizabeth Hutter. Mr. Medvin said this week that "many, many citizens contacted me and came to Council meetings to speak out despite storms, late hours, and so on."

In the end, last Tuesday, Mr. Escher's resolution was unanimously adopted.

Unanswered Question. How much of a role internecine Democratic warfare played in all this is not fully known. Mr. Medvin made the charge of "politics!" at the agenda meeting when Ms. Schneier spoke her opposition.

The Loop bus was the pet project of former Council member now Freeholder, Barbara Sigmund. Ms. Schneier, Mr. Escher, Mr. Lombardo, Mrs. van den Blink and Mr. Moore broke with Mrs. Sigmund after the elections last fall and did not support her as a Freeholder choice. But Council member Nelson van den Blink, said of the agreement with the merchants, "The Loop is Barbara's project – let's give her her due."

Does this action by the merchants set a precedent? When Mr. Garretson says "It's a first," does he mean there will be a second?

"It's hard to say," Mr. Garretson says, "the business community has always supported community activities – this is just a new wrinkle."

"It would depend on the particulars," says Merchants' Association chairman Ralph Hulit Jr., asked whether merchants would bail out the Borough again.

"Our big goal for this year is parking," he says. "The Loop bus fits in with that project. We've found our employees use it. If just one employee takes the bus and doesn't park all day, that frees one meter for, maybe, seven shoppers during the whole day. It's worth it."

Many shop-keepers would like to see the bus run all summer, but nobody has said they will help to pay that bill. Mr. Garretson says "If you let it die, even for a few months, people either break their habit of riding it, or don't form the new habit. The cliff-hanging aspect – is it going to run for another three months or not? -- makes riders drop off."

Both Mr. Garretson and Mr. Lombardo believe volunteerism is as American as a bus-ride. If they are right, maybe the merchants will be back, next time Princeton is in trouble.

BUY ME A BIKE

Borough Gets $50,000. A $50,000 lollypop has been handed to the Borough by the state. It's bike path money.

George Olexa, Borough engineer, has just learned that the application he sent in 11 months ago -- April 3, 1975 -- for money to build bike paths, has been approved. He asked for $83,100 and got $50,000, but he says it's enough.

It's actually Federal funding, intended to give towns money to build bike paths that will take bicycle traffic off Federal highways. For the Borough, this means a 1,555-foot stretch on Stockton Street -- New Jersey State Highway 206 -- connecting the Elm Road path to be built by the county this spring with the existing Borough bike path system.

It also means a path on Prospect Avenue, parallel to New Jersey State Highway 27 (Princeton-Kingston Road). This path will connect with the Township's Route 27 path and will provide a safer east-west bike route than Route 27 itself, which has 1,400 cars an hour at peak hours.

Another path will travel down Bayard Lane, perhaps on the west side if the cost of working through the high bank isn't too great, for a connection with the proposed park on the north side of State Road. A bikeway on Washington Road was in the proposal, too, but Mr. Olexa said this week that it probably won't be built since the Township's application for bike money was denied. Both Township and Borough have asked the state for Green Acres bike path money, but the word hasn't come through yet.

Although bike paths like these are designed to help cyclists, there is no law compelling cyclists to use them instead of hazardous streets.

Borough officials are conscious of the irony of a $50,000 state grant for bike paths when the municipality is gasping under the "thorough and efficient" school tax burden. "We need bread and they give us a peppermint," one official said.

IT'S BUDGET TIME

Township Hearing Held. "My guess is we haven't been very extravagant," observed Township Mayor Jay Bleiman at the budget hearing Monday night, after Elmer Greey of Ridgeview Road made his annual protest about the percentage increase in the local tax rate.

Captain Greey told Committee his taxes had increased 294 percent since 1960, while the Consumer Price Index climbed only 184 percent. He protested an outlay of $2,100 for road crew uniforms and $75,000 for a flood study.

"Clear the ditches and use common sense on drainage and save the money," he advised.

Road crews wanted uniforms to protect their clothes from grease, hot asphalt and wear and tear, Administrator Joseph R. Nini told Captain Greey. And William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue, himself a frequent budget critic, said Township residents were getting more services from their tax dollars than they did 15 years ago.

Mr. Cherry's protest concerned salary levels which go up, he charged, faster than the CPI.

Experience Essential. "We're trying to keep our good staff people," said Committee member Margaret Broadwater in reply to Mr. Cherry. "As volunteer elected officials, we must rely on experienced, competent staff people. And we must not only pay them enough so that we can keep them, but enough so they aren't tempted to take something on the side."

Mayor Bleiman reminded the sparse audience that the problem is where to get revenues. "That's more of a problem than any profligacy in expenditures," he remarked.

In response to an audience question, Mr. Nini said the Township invests in 30-and-60-day certificates of deposit, and in five, ten or 15-day "repurchasing agreements." In 1974, the Township realized $46,000 in interest on these investments, he said, adding that last year when the market slipped, and the interest was lower.

The public library might charge $1 a year to each customer, suggested Everett B. Garretson, 94 Fairway Drive. If the recreation department can charge for use of pool and courts, he said, why can't the library charge for use of books and other facilities?

Stumped for a moment, Mayor Bleiman said he was personally a strong believer in a free public library, but he suggested the library's board of trustees might be interested in the idea.

No Big Help. "The pool is paid for by people who use it," the mayor mused. "You don't have to hold a card to use the library for other purposes than to take out books."

He added that a $1 annual fee might raise only $6,000 or so -- not much in the library's $435,871 budget.

The mayor pointed to a tax "pie" in the Township's 24-page budget explanation, showing that the five largest

Maybe your back is aching for a Spinal-Guard.

King Koil, with the help of the International Chiropractors Association, designed the Spinal-Guard especially for people who woke up with a backache because of a saggy mattress. The critical center area of Spinal-Guard is constructed with heavier springs to provide extra support to the heaviest part of the body.

Spinal-Guard also features Flex-edge non-sag border supports that let you sleep comfortably edge to edge. Inert cushioning materials reduce the possibility of bothersome allergy symptoms and the cover is chemically treated to stay hygienically fresh. A foam foundation gives the mattress a firm base.

Now is a great time to buy. Spinal-Guard is at special prices.

pieces of the local property tax were police (24 percent); roads and engineering (16 percent); debt service and capital (12 percent); library (11 percent) and general governmental expenses (9 percent).

This year's overall tax rate will be $3.70, up from last year's $3.49. The local rate has gone up 15 cents: from 52 cents to 67 cents. The school rate is down 5 cents because of the shift in cost-sharing with the Borough.

In other business, Committee heard a letter from Michael Fuschini, 69 Birch, complaining that cars parked illegally all day on Birch on Tuesdays and Thursdays, (the alternate-side days) incurring only a $2 fine--the cheapest all-day parking in town. Mr. Nini said the Township has asked permission of the courts to increase the fine to $4, with steep penalties for non-payment.

Protests from residents of Locust Lane, White Pine Lane and Wheatsheaf Lane on proposals to build housing in the Borough on the quarry site, will be referred to the Flood Control Commission, the two Environmental Commissions and, if site plans are presented by the developer, to the Planning Board.

Committee passed a resolution setting April 9 as "Paul Robeson Day," following Borough Council's similar action last week. Mayor Bleiman asked if he might serve as liaison with those planning celebrations honoring Robeson.

April 5 was set as the public hearing on the Township's capital budget.

CAR COLLISION FATAL

To Ray Walle. Ray Walle, sports car driver, auto mechanic and businessman, was killed Monday night when his car collided head-on with another on Montgomery Avenue in Rocky Hill. The 35-year old co-owner of the Z&W Mazda new-car dealership on Route 206 was pronouoced dead on arrival at Princeton Medical Center.

The driver and passenger of the second car in the 9:42 accident were both admitted to the Medical Center. A spokesman for the hospital reported Tuesday that Walter R. Tobler, 23, of River Road, Belle Mead, was in serious condition with possible internal injuries, multiple lacerations and a fractured foot. He was the driver.

His passenger, Barry Englemann of Line Road, Belle Mead, was described in fair condition with multiple lacerations.

The accident is still under investigation by Trooper Carl Weidl of the Princeton State Police Barracks. No summonses have been issued.

According to police, the Tobler car was traveling north on Montgomery Avenue away from Rocky Hill. The Walle car was traveling south when they collided just short of the Montgomery Township line, near Toth Road. Both cars were extensively damaged.

Mr. Walle was a well-known racing driver who competed at all the major tracks in the East including Daytona, Lime Rock and the Pocono 500. His race cars were usually on display in his Mazda showroom.

Until he formed Z&W a few years ago with Mel Zentner, he had operated his own foreign car repair shop in Blawenburg. He lived in Amwell Township near Lambertville.

This year, Z&W was awarded the Alfa Romeo line of imported sports cars on the basis of its service department which Mr. Walle headed.

In his most recent race, Mr. Walle had driven a race-prepared Mazda in the 24 Hours of Daytona in January. He finished 18th.

He is survived by his wife, Janice; a daughter Wende, 15, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Walle of Monmouth Junction.

CAR DEALER KILLED: Ray Walle, the "W" in Z&W Mazda, Route 206, was killed Monday night in a head-on collision in Rocky Hill.

POTHOLES ARE BLAMED

For Two-Car Crash. Potholes were blamed for causing a two-car collision Friday evening on Route 206 near Hilltop Drive.

Samuel R. Rossi, 31, of Lake Hopatcong, told police that his car hit a number of potholes and water, causing it to veer into the opposite lane, where it struck a car operated by Sabine A. Griebl, 32, of The Great Road. Ptl. William Potts described the area as "very dangerous and in need of repair" in his report.

Mr. Rossi and three of his passengers all suffered minor injuries. Ms. Griebl com-

Last week's snow was gone in three days' time, despite a fall that averaged more than four inches. This week's rain had been forecast as snow for Tuesday, a reminder that it's still winter on the calendar.

The season, and the weather, will change Saturday if you're up as early as 6:20 that morning, you can watch the Vernal Equinox arrive.

A gradually milding trend will mark the welcome moment. Cool weather Wednesday and Thursday is expected to be followed by the thermometer's excursion into the upper 50s, maybe even 60 by Saturday, under generally sunny skies.

plained of a minor back injury. There were no charges. The mishap took place a few minutes past 6.

2 Cars, 2 Poles, 2 Accidents. Two accidents, occurring last Wednesday around noon-time on the Great Road, were remarkable for their similarity. Neither driver was injured.

At 11:57, Jeanne T. Bowers of 2 Puritan Court, skidded 40 feet from the intersection of Drake's Corner Road in the snow and slush from Tuesday's snowstorm. Her VW struck utility pole 60547 and had to be towed away.

Forty minutes later, Jeffrey Antoniewicz of Trenton, skidded in the same slush 75 feet from Drake's Corner Road, lost control and struck pole 60548. His VW came to rest some 15 feet away.

Ptl. Renn Kaminski, who investigated both accidents, described driving conditions at the site as "extremely hazardous."

During Tuesday's snow, Township police investigated seven skidding accidents between 2:10 and 6:20; Borough police had two between 1:36 and 3:23. None of the nine brought serious injury.

JEWELRY STOLEN

From Harris Road Home. Several hundred dollars worth of jewelry and $77 in cash were stolen Saturday evening from a Harris Road home. Police report all the bedrooms had been ransacked.

The entry--between 7 and 10 p.m.--was gained by breaking a pane of glass in a rear door. Detective Charles Harris is continuing the investigation.

A Princeton University student lost $80 when his unlocked room on the second floor of Cottage Club, Prospect Avenue, was entered Sunday between 4 and 9:30 p.m. The money was taken from his wallet in a desk drawer.

A 12-inch television set was reported stolen Friday morning from Westminster Choir College. It had been removed from Erdman Hall, police said.

A citizens' band radio valued at $150 was stolen from a car parked last week in Lot 20 on the University campus near Jadwin Gym. A vent window had been pried to get inside. Police identified the owner as William Wright of Bayville.

Mrs. Nancy Pike, 101 Leabrook Lane, lost her wallet containing $45 and credit cards while she was shopping Friday morning in the Acme Market. She told police that she had placed her handbag in her shopping cart and had left it to talk to a friend--keeping the cart in sight. After completing her shopping, she discovered her wallet was missing.

A navy blue ski jacket valued at $60 was reported missing from a cloakroom at the Unitarian Church, where she was attending a class, by Jennifer Brody, 141 Dodds Lane.

Dorm Room Ransacked. The dormitory room of Khlad Hossain in 1922 Hall on the University campus was ransacked but Township police report that apparently nothing was taken. Contents from drawers and closets had been strewn about the floor, police said.

The intruder had pushed open a window to get inside.

FOUR ARE FINED

For Careless Driving. Four Princeton residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court for careless driving.

James Moore, 197 John Street, and Thomas J. McBeth, 163 Washington Road, each paid $25; Rea Classen, Cherry Hill Road, was fined $30 and ordered re-examined, and Armando Rossi, 49 Humbert Street, paid $35.

Speeders fined were Edward R. Tkacs, 414 N. Harrison Street, $15; Dorothy

"HANG IN THERE!" That's what Bob Mooney's wife wrote on the card when she sent her husband this bouquet of green carnations. The occasion? Mr. Mooney's 30th anniversary — first as Borough clerk, then as Administrator, the post he holds today. He became clerk on March 15, 1946. Why green carnations? Why, because the name is "Mooney" and March 15 is that close to St. Patrick's Day. March 15 is also the day TOWN TOPICS arrived on the Princeton scene 30 years ago — see pages 20 and 21.

B. Weeks, 313 Princeton Road, Plainsboro, $15, and John P. Noon, 144 Jefferson Road, $18. Stop-sign infractions cost Daniel H. Schulman, 124 Snowden Lane, and Monique V. Davies, 64 Pine Street, $15 each.

David R. Toto, 73 Erdman Avenue, was fined $35 for allowing an unlicensed driver to drive; Maryanne Wiggins, 13 Greenwood Avenue, Lawrenceville, was fined $15, red light, and Mark Woodrick, Lawrenceville Road, was fined $35 for failure to keep right. He was also ordered re-examined.

SHOPLIFTER CAUGHT

At Bamberger's. A Trenton resident has been charged with allegedly shoplifting three shirts valued at $36 from Bamberger's in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Robert Derry, 27, had been under surveillance in the men's department by police and was arrested last week by a member of the store's security department. When Township Det. Samuel Bianco arrived, the suspect was found to have an 8-inch knife in his possession. He was also charged for that offense.

Derry was later released in his own recognizance, pending his appearance in Township court.

SUSPECT SURRENDERS

To Borough Police. Gary Marshall, 23, of Clay Street, walked into Borough police headquarters Monday morning and surrendered to Det. Timothy Huizing.

Police had charged Marshall with breaking and entering, larceny, possession of stolen property, carrying a concealed weapon and having no permit to purchase a firearm. He was remanded to Mercer County Jail in lieu of $3500 bail.

Chief Michael Carnevale said that the charges stemmed from a Witherspoon Street larceny about two months ago in which a .38 caliber pistol was stolen. The weapon was found in Marshall's possession when he was arrested last month by Trenton police.

QUILTING, KING-SIZE: This king-size quilt was designed and hand-stitched by needlewomen who participate in programs at the Lloyd Terrace Senior Citizens Resource Center. It has been purchased for $500 by Robert Landau (left) and is now in the window of Landau's store. It will go to the winner of a drawing to be held May 2 at the Art People Party. Next to Mr. Landau are Ethel Brockelbank, Fanny Ruegg, Mary Bauchop and Ida Carroll.

ZONING BOARD TO MEET

With Varied Agenda. Requests to convert single-family homes into two-family use will occupy the Borough Zoning Board at its meeting next Thursday, March 25, at 8:15 p.m. in Borough Hall.

"146 Dundas Corporation," the Timothy Sheehan organization, will ask permission to convert to two-family use the house on Peck Place, at the rear of 357-9 Nassau. The First Baptist Church will seek conversion of its property at 30 Green Street to a two-family dwelling.

An earlier variance gave permission for retail space at 195 Nassau to be used as a book-store only. Now the landlord, W. Bryce Thompson, wants to rent the space for the sale of quilts hand-made in Appalachia. The zoning officer has ruled that the use of that space can't be changed, and Mr. Thompson is appealing that decision to the Zoning Board.

Finally, the board will hear requests by Carl E. Foss of 72 Elm, for bulk variances required if he subdivides his property into two lots. One, fronting on Elm, would be short the required distance between a swimming pool and a lot line. The second lot, to front on Rosedale, isn't deep enough.

ARREST FOLLOWS

When Woman Takes Records. A Trenton woman was arrested Friday afternoon not long after she had allegedly attempted to shoplift some records from the Princeton Music Center on Palmer Square.

Debra Middleton, 21, was later turned over to Township Det. Frank Boccanfuso who had a warrant for her arrest for contempt of court in connection with a shoplifting charge.

Borough police had responded to a 3 p.m. call from the Music Center that the owner had a suspect in custody who had allegedly taken some records and placed them under her coat. The owner took the records from her, police said, and the suspect then left the store.

She was seen 15 minutes later walking on Witherspoon Street by Detectives Charles Harris and Timothy Huizing.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

For Visitor Program. The Volunteer Friendly Visitor Program will hold a second training session on April 5, 8, 12 and 15 from 7:30 to 9:30 at the Council of Community Services office, 221 Witherspoon Street. Anyone who wishes to be a volunteer may join this free orientation course, which will be taught by professionals from the fields of health care and social work.

The Volunteer Friendly Visitor Program is under the auspices of the Community Homemaker Service, a member agency of the Princeton Area United Community Fund. The visitors will service the residents of Cranbury, East Windsor, Hightstown, Kingston, Montgomery, Plainsboro, Rocky Hill, West Windsor, and adjacent areas of Hopewell, Lawrenceville, and South Brunswick.

The service is designed to bring "Friendship with Understanding" to homebound individuals and their families. The friendly visitor will visit individuals of any age who because of chronic illness, physical handicaps, or life circumstances are alone and in need of companionship.

Those interested in becoming a volunteer friendly visitor should call the Community Homemaker Service at 924-5862 weekdays between 9 and 3.

NEW PRESIDENT

Meyerhofer Elected. When Dietrich Meyerhofer was elected to the school board two years ago, he was regarded by most voters as a centrist candidate -- neither on the right nor the left. This school board is less sharply divided idealogically than past boards, but he still has in the community that centrist image.

Dr. Meyerhofer, Swiss-educated physicist at RCA, was unanimously elected president of the school board at the re-organization meeting last week. His predecessor, Winthrop Pike, who withdrew after board member Dale Madden had nominated him, is generally regarded as belonging to the right-hand side of the spectrum.

"It's a board with a wide spectrum," Dr. Meyerhofer observed this week. "We have differences, but we are willing to accept them and go along with the majority. We work together very constructively on the whole."

As a 1974 candidate, Dr. Meyerhofer declared that the board should take more initiative. He still feels that way, but he adds, "The board HAS."

Also, he says, the board is getting much more from the administration, particularly from the superintendent's office, than in the past. He cites the public complaint policy, introduced at the last meeting, which came to the board from the administration.

Goals and Priorities. Dr. Meyerhofer has turned in his portfolio as head of the policy committee. His major concern is to get the board more involved with educational matters, and he observes that dealing with present dollar crises realistically means considering goals and priorities in education.

"We must put finances into the framework of what we want to accomplish," he says, "it's a matter of disciplining ourselves to spend enough time to get these things done."

The state is requiring school boards, under the "thorough and efficient" education law, to work on goals.

"A year and a half ago," he recalls, "I proposed procedures for studying goals as related to curriculum. My proposal didn't get very far. I hope we can get back to goals: it will be one of our first items."

Consultant Wanted. The board is searching for a consultant, and hopes to select one "as soon as possible," the new president said.

"We feel we need advice in various areas. It's a combination of our differences with the superintendent, coming to grips with overall goals, revamping policies. These things haven't been looked at from the outside before. We would retain a firm, and then tap them for whatever we need."

Dr. Meyerhofer doesn't see the hiring of an outside consultant as an end run around the superintendent. "Because we have serious differences with the superintendent, we need advice. One of the superintendent's main duties is to advise the board, of course; this would be additional advice."

Aside from imposing "discipline" on himself and other board members to consider goals and priorities in education, Dr. Meyerhofer hopes he can persuade members to explain more thoroughly in public meetings the reasons why they have voted as they have. Articulate and precise, Dr. Meyerhofer has never left his constituents in doubt as to the reasons for his actions.

EIGHTEEN BORN

In Princeton Medical Center. In the week ending March 13, 12 girls and six boys were born in the Medical Center at Princeton.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Bancroft, 149 Hodge Road; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Dodge, 29 Cadwallader Court, Yardley, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. William S. Gallagher, 122 Hickory Corner Road, East Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Vito Palazzo, Windsor Castle Apartments, East Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Szczech, 1023 North Olden Avenue, Trenton, all on March 7; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hacker, 24 Schenk Place, Robbinsville; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mann, 26 Maitland Road, Yardville; Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Smith, Surrey Drive, Belle Mead, all on March 8.

Also to Mr. and Mrs. Chong Lim, 66 Wesleyan Drive, Hamilton Square; Mr. and Mrs. Phillip McCarthy, 373 Windsor Street, North Plainfield, both on March 9; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Oxenhorn, 9 Twin Rivers Drive, East Windsor; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cucci, 632 Flock Road, Hamilton Square, both on March 11.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. David Williams, 674 Paxson Avenue, Mercerville, March 7; Mr. and Mrs. Saul Kalt, 525 Fairfield Road; Mr. and Mrs. Shigeo Kashiwagi, 1201 Lawrence Apartments; Mr. and Mrs. Luis Vazquez, 53 Washington Street, Rocky Hill, all on March 10; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClaughlin, 24 Rutledge Avenue, Trenton; and Mr. and Mrs. William Pozzi, 163 Johnston Avenue, Trenton, both on March 11.

TWO ARE CHARGED

With Attempted Larceny. Two men have been arrested and charged with the attempted larceny last week of a stereo receiver from Tech Hifi, 1 Palmer Square.

They are Bernard Sampson, 34, of Atlantic City, and John Redmond, 25, of Trenton. Sampson has also been charged with assault and battery. Both are presently in jail in lieu of bail; Sampson's was set at $1,000, Redmond's at $1,250.

According to police, the two entered the store last Tuesday and while Sampson engaged the clerk in conversation, Redmond carried the receiver out to their car. He was seen by the owner police said, who pursued him to the car and managed to wrestle the receiver away.

Sampson followed outside, where he allegedly kicked the owner and the two jumped in their car and drove away. The car's license number was given by the owner to police, who radioed it to nearby police departments.

The car was later seen by state police at The Marketplace, Routes 518 and 527. Sampson and Redmond were held by Trooper Steve Makuka, who turned them over to Det. Timothy Huizing and Det. Ronald Holiday. Sgt. Thomas Michaud and Officer Monica Sheehan responded to the initial call for aid.

BROBDINGNAGIAN BOILERS: These two hot water boilers, each weighing approximately 75,000 pounds, arrived in Princeton via the State Road and proceeded down Nassau Street Thursday en route to Route 1 and a Philadelphia dock. Their eventual destination is Chile. Built in the early 1950s, the boilers were being shipped from Phillipsburg. The first day on the road, the trucks traveled a total of 13 miles in Tuesday's snow. Overhead wires that dipped below the 18-foot height of each load had to be temporarily removed. "I hope," said one of the men involved, "that I never have to move anything like this again." Trucks are opposite Township Hall on Route 206 before making the slow climb up Bayard Lane.

BUS TOURS PLANNED

By Historical Society. As part of its observance of the Bicentennial, the Historical Society has announced its spring bus tours. The first will take place on Tuesday, March 30, when there will be a day trip to the New York Historical Society in New York.

Lucius Wilmerding, a member of the board of trustees of the Princeton and the New York Historical Societies, has arranged the visit. Among the items the group will view are Audubon water colors, American paintings, folk art, landscapes and portraits, period rooms, American silver and glass paper weights. The director, James J. Heslin, will greet the group and provide a brief tour of the galleries.

Following a box luncheon in the rotunda, Mr. Koke, one of the curators, will speak on "New York in the Revolution" and show the special bicentennial exhibit on that topic. Mr. Gregory, the librarian, will point out some of the treasures in the library, which has over 600,000 books and a million manuscripts. Time permitting, the group will be able to visit some of the other Bicentennial exhibits, such as "The New York Cabinetmaker and His Use of Space," utilizing 65 pieces of furniture made between 1740 and 1840.

Members of the Society and others in the community are invited. The cost, including transportation, donations and luncheon, is $10 for members and $12 for non-members. For reservations, which are limited and which close March 25, call the Historical Society at 921-6748. The bus will leave the Princeton Shopping Center at the Acme end at 9 and will return about 5.

The second spring bus tour will be on Tuesday, April 20, to Lower Manhattan to view the Federal Hall, Sons of the Revolution Museum at Fraunces Tavern and the South Street Seaport Museum. On Wednesday, May 5, the final bus tour will be to the Great Falls Historic District and the Dey Mansion in northern New Jersey.

SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED

By Legion Post. April 1 is the closing date for applications for the Bicentennial scholarship of $500 offered by Post No. 76, American Legion, according to Thomas Ward, commander. The award will be made to a high school student starting college this fall who writes the best essay on the subject "The Spirit of '76."

The composition is open to students who either reside in or attend school in West Windsor Township or Princeton Borough and Township. Applications may be obtained from the offices of the local secondary schools, Princeton High School, West Windsor - Plainsboro High School, The Hun School, Princeton Day School, and Stuart Country Day School, or from the Scholarship Committee, Princeton Post 76, American Legion, 95 Washington Road.

A panel of judges has been established to screen the submitted essays. Dr. William L. Tucker, a member of Post 76, has been designated as chief judge. Announcement of the recipient of the award will be made on July 4.

D & R CANAL

Topic of Children's Workshop. The Children's History Project will meet for its second session Monday at 3:30 in the Public Library to hear stories and see pictures on the Delaware and Raritan Canal. Afterwards, the children will be asked to draw, tape record or write their own impressions of this part of the town's history. Some of the results may later be included in a compilation, "The Childrens' History of Princeton," to be bound and kept as a guide for youthful visitors.

A field trip to the canal is planned at a later date.

NUCLEAR THREAT

Saturday Supper Topic. The Community Alternatives Group will hold its monthly potluck supper on Saturday from 6 - 9:30 at the Friends' First Day School, Quaker Bridge and Mercer Roads. Ralph Kerns of the Citizens for Responsible Power Policies will discuss "The Threat of Nuclear Energy".

There will also be small group discussions on "The Ideal Community." All are welcome. The Community Alternatives Group is working for reduced consumption and cooperative life styles in the Princeton area.

Wellesley Club's 17th Princeton Antiques Show On View for Three Days Starting Next Thursday

The 17th annual Princeton Antiques Show, to be held March 25-27 at Princeton Day School, will provide an unusual exhibition of furniture, silver, crystal, jewelry, oil paintings, watercolors, rugs, china, and more, brought here by the 33 dealers invited to the 1976 show, many of whom are exhibiting in Princeton for the first time.

Milholland and Olson of Princeton will exhibit fine English and American furniture of 18th century origin, as well as a French Empire clock and English brasses. Mrs. Berthalan de Nemethy of the Brownstone Barn will show English and American cabinetry from the 17th and 18th centuries. Egon and Joan Teichert will exhibit watercolors and other portraits of 18th and 19th century origin, as well as sporting prints, including Curriers, done in the 19th century.

Nancy Kramer and Nina Jackson of Princeton will display the silk flower arrangements they prepare especially for use with antiques. Heather Valley Antiques, represented by Betty Titone, will present French antiques of Louis XV and the Regence period. Robert Jackson and Ann Gilooley will bring a silver collection, while Mary Kraus will show her collection of bronze and brass diminutives.

Among familiar faces at the show will be A.C. Goodwin of Duxbury Galleries, who will exhibit English and American pieces, including a very small kneehole desk of the Chippendale period, made in England of Santo Domingo mahogany. Mr. Goodwin will also show American furniture, including a small New York Pembroke table, and oil paintings. From Behind the Times Antiques comes a French painted lady's desk, circa 1860, with tambour top and painted writing surface, and a set of six Canton pot de creme cups.

Barton Ginzburg of Fifty King Antiques will show country English and American furniture, including a fancy Sheraton Settee and an 18th century English birdcage tilttop table. Ester Gilbert, of Wayland, Mass., will show her collection of barometers and ship models and a carousel horse with old paint and glass eyes. From the Calico Cat in Kingston come doll house miniatures, including a shaving mirror and an open hutch. They will also show pressed glass, Staffordshire (including a Bobbie Burns and Highland Mary), Celadon china and a Hepplewhite card table.

Brimfield Antiques will bring a collection of American pieces, including a marble top pier table with "bustle mirror," a Sheraton canopy bed, a Hepplewhite cherry desk and a Federal chest from Salem with inlaid front. Elizabeth Tukey of Princeton will return with her porcelains, a gilt Sheraton mirror with painted panel, and some American antiques.

The show will also include a lecture, given on Friday, March 26, at 11 by Dr. R. Peter Mooz, Director of the Bowdoin Art Museum, entitled "Colonial Portraiture: The Conversation Piece in America." A patrons' cocktail preview opens the show on March 24, from 6 to 9.

Patrons' tickets, which admit to the preview and for unlimited visits to the show, are available from Mrs. Hallett Johnson for $12.50 each. Preview tickets, which admit to the preview and once more during show hours, may be purchased at the door on March 24 for $7.50. Regular admission is $2.50 at the door, $2 in advance from the Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey, 338 the Great Road, Princeton. Hours are noon to 10 Thursday and Friday, noon to 5 p.m. on Saturday. Refreshments are available all day, and luncheon will be served from noon to 2. All proceeds from the show go to Wellesley College.

TO DISCUSS BOOK

At Lamplighter Bookstore. Dr. Lee H. Bristol Jr., former president of the Westminster Choir College, lay reader in the Episcopal church, organist, hymnologist and author, will discuss his most recent book, "Guides to Growth-- More Power to You" Monday at 2:30 at the Lamplighter Bookstore, 1 Palmer Square.

"Guides to Growth" one of 13 books by Dr. Bristol, was published in 1975. He will also discuss another work, "The Big Picnic and Other Meals in the New Testament." Copies of these books are available at the Lamplighter for those who wish to obtain one before meeting Dr. Bristol.

A Georgian at Princeton is a remarkably cohesive collection of a family's correspondence (1850-52), written when they were first uprooted from the South: the sons studying at Princeton, the parents and daughter living in Philadelphia. In their determination to remain close, the Joneses revealed to one another all the details of their lives, from adolescent pontification on the meaning of things to the impossibility of maintaining a gracious household in a Northern city. The result is an epistolary novel and much more: a true bit of history told, intimately and unknowingly, by the people who were living it.

ROBERT MANSON MYERS, playwright and literary critic, is a professor of English at Princeton and the author of several books.

Can Princeton Follow N.Y.?
To The Editor of Town Topics:

In an effort to cut the defeated school budget, representatives of the Borough Council and Township Committee have been meeting with stubborn opposition from the School Board. Sunday's meeting was heavily represented by union spokesmen who valiantly supported their half million dollars in raises.

School Board member Joan Doig, who handles union negotiations and who supports the budget, asserted that in yielding to union demands, "I'm answerable only to myself my conscience and to the school system." Borough Councilman Lombardo shot back, "Mrs. Doig, you should be answerable to the taxpayers of Princeton as well as to the school system. It's the citizens of Princeton who have to pay for this."

School Board member Doig also revealed that in dealing with the unions under the PERC rules, she "must negotiate as if we had unlimited means." Councilman Lombardo remarked that if the School Board "knocked on doors and got closer to the citizens of Princeton, they might find out how sentiments of this sort were regarded by Princeton taxpayers."

At a similar meeting held on the previous Wednesday, one of our many school administrators warned, "If the present budget is cut, we're flirting with mediocrity." Citizen Mark Jones muttered, "In this school system, mediocrity would be a big step upwards. The School Board provides the worst possible education at the highest possible cost. The more money it wastes on superfluous administrators and greedy union demands, the more our schools fail to teach."

Traditionally, our School Board budget obscures rather than reveals how our money is thrown away. Let us hope that under the continued scrutiny of Council members Van den Blink, Escher and Lombardo and Committeewoman Hutter, Princeton won't go the route of New York.

Utility Bill Too High.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

As citizens of Princeton and retired people, we are very disturbed about our gas and electric bill for January 20 to February 20. It was $192.87 and this is more than we can afford.

We are retired. I am fully retired and my husband is semi-retired. My husband and I live alone in a small five-room house. We heat with gas and we have plastic storm-windows all over the north side of our house.

I am on a very strict diet. My husband is a very light eater and I cook only one meal a day for him. I eat a lot of salads and cold cereal, so we cook very little. We never entertain at all, so I don't understand why our bill is so high.

We tried to get a second reading from Public Service but to no avail. Maybe this will help us get some action. I am 72 and my husband is 75.

Correction Provided.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter I have written to the publicity director of McCarter Theatre:

I would like to point out an error in your story about Murray Perahia in TOWN TOPICS of March 4. His McCarter recital was NOT his first in Princeton.

The University Concerts Committee, following its principle of engaging relatively unknown performers, brought Mr. Perahia to Princeton in April, 1974.

A telephone call to the University Concert Office would make unnecessary any such mistakes in future publicity releases.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter I have sent to Senator Anne C. Martindell.

JAMES S. THORTON
Vice-Chairman
N.J. Common Cause

Many thanks for your efforts on behalf of New Jersey Senate adoption of the 60-day Rule. We are sorry the Senate, by vote of 12-23, defeated the adoption of a rule which would have weakened the present custom of senatorial courtesy, the secret blackball system we have been lobbying against for the last three years.

I see that six Senators--Garramone, Bedell, Skevin, Hirkala, Wallwork and Dwyer--said "yes" to a Common Cause question on ending senatorial courtesy when it was election time in 1973, yet voted "no" on the 60-day Rule. I cannot understand how those 23 who voted "nay" can justify their stand against a rule which would have required that any nomination not released from committee within 60 days would automatically come to the floor for a full Senate vote.

The present practice is certainly a perversion of the advise-and-consent role of the Senate.

Reform of the governmental process takes continuous action. We know you will not give up on this and other reforms; neither will we.

YWCA PLANS PROGRAM

For Social Service Work. The Princeton YWCA will sponsor a social service career training program open to all high school girls in the area.

Designed to offer young women the opportunity to explore this area of career choice, the program features eight weeks of supervised volunteer work in an area community service agency. Depending on her particular interests and aptitudes, a girl can be placed in a hospital, nursing home, recreation, consumer or environmental setting.

In addition, a weekly seminar, including films and guest speakers, will be held at the YMCA-YWCA at which time the girls will share their experiences.

Each girl will complete an interest and information form. After being matched with an appropriate agency, the volunteer and agency will contract for the duties and responsibilities of each, the number of hours per week and the duration of the experience.

At the end of the program each girl and her agency will complete an evaluation form covering all aspects of the program.

A Princeton High School senior, Michele Muri, as her own volunteer experience, will be working with the YWCA staff to coordinate and develop the program. She will be acting as a liason between girls from the various high schools in the area, their agencies, and will help lead seminar discussion groups.

Starting date for the program is Thursday, March 25 at 7:30 p.m. when the first seminar will be held at the YMCA-YWCA. Both the seminars and the volunteer work will end the week of May 13.

For more information and application forms, interested girls should see their high school guidance counselors or contact Nina Heller at the YWCA, 924-4825 ext. 26. Forms should be received no later than March 17.

CLUB PLANS TRIP

For Lunch and Theatre. The Princeton Senior Citizens Club is sponsoring a trip for all Princeton residents 60 and over to the Watchung View Inn on Monday, March 29, for lunch and theater. The performance will be "Barefoot in the Park."

The departure is scheduled for 11 with the bus returning approximately at 4. The cost for the lunch and theater tickets is $7.50. The deadline for registration is Friday, March 19. For further information and trip details, call the Princeton Recreation Department at 921-9480 between 9 and 5 weekdays.

Changing Your Party?

If you've ever voted in a New Jersey primary and want to change your party affiliation for the June 8 primary, you must make that change before the end of the day Monday, April 19.

You may pick up the required form at either Borough or Township Hall.

The catch is– the law applies, even if you haven't voted in a New Jersey primary for half a century. Do you remember how you voted in the 1932 primary? And, of course, can you remember which party you were affiliated with?

If you aren't sure whether election officials have you down as Republican or Democrat, call the Mercer County Board of Elections at 989-6771.

OBITUARIES

Dr. Otto S. Schairer, 96, formerly of 89 Battle Road, a retired RCA vice-president who was instrumental in the development of radio broadcasting and television, died Friday at his home in Meadow Lakes Village, Hightstown.

As the first vice-president of RCA Laboratories here, he directed the Laboratories' research on radar, night vision devices, and other electronic equipment for the U.S. Armed Forces during World War II before retiring in 1945. Almost three decades earlier, as Director of Patent Development for the Westinghouse Corporation, Dr. Schairer was a major participant in the planning of the pioneer broadcasting station, KDKA, in Pittsburgh.

Dr. Schairer was also one of the first electronics industry executives to recognize the possibilities of television. He persuaded Westinghouse to sign a contract for the development of the inventions of Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin, who invented the Iconoscope, an all-electronic TV camera, and the Kinescope, the picture tube employed in TV receivers.

In 1929, both men transferred to RCA, where Dr. Zworykin carried his development of TV to fruition and Dr. Schairer became Director of RCA Patent Development. In 1930, he was appointed vice-president in charge of the RCA License Department.

In the late 1930s, RCA decided to centralize its research activities in one location. Dr. Schairer was one of the executives responsible for planning the new RCA Laboratories and choosing Princeton as its location. In 1941, he was named the first vice-president of RCA Laboratories, and he remained in charge until he retired at the end of 1945.

A native of Saline, Mich., Dr. Schairer attended the University of Michigan, receiving his A.B. in 1901 and his B.S. degree in Electrical Engineering in 1902. That year, he went to work for Westinghouse as an apprentice.

Dr. Schairer was a Fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers and a member of the American Bar Association, the American Patent Law and New York Law Association, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He belonged to the Nassau Club, Old Guard, Springdale Golf Club and the Highland Park Florida Club, Lake Wales, Fla. Dr. Schairer attended the First Presbyterian Church of Hightstown.

He is survived by two sons, Dr. George S. of Belleview, Wash., and Dr. Robert S. of Los Angeles; and a daughter, Mrs. Julia Read of Grosse Point, Mich. His wife, the former Elizabeth Blanche Swift, died in 1973.

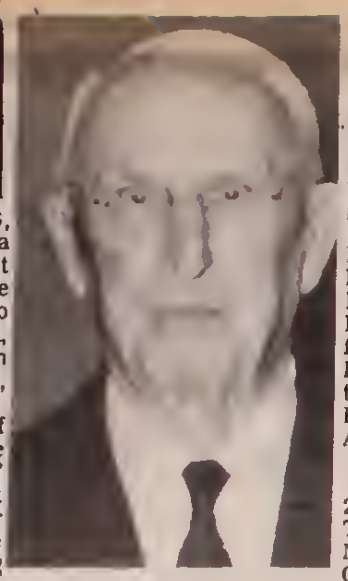
Memorial services were held at the First Presbyterian Church of Hightstown. Burial was in Saline, Mich.

Miss Lucy Palmatier of Marshall's Corner, Pennington, died March 12 at home. She had been librarian at Princeton Theological Seminary since 1948.

Born in Triumph, Ill., Miss Palmatier had lived in the area for 56 years. She was a member of the Pennington Presbyterian Church, Hopewell Chapter 112 OES and the American Theological Librarian Association. She was also active in volunteer work at the Pennington Free Public Library.

She is survived by a brother, Charles E. Palmatier of Hopewell; two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Overstreet of Culpepper, Va. and Dr. Anne Miller of Crystal Falls, Minn.; two nephews and a niece.

The service was held at a Pennington funeral home with the Rev. Walter Coats of Pennington Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial was in Pennington Cemetery.



Dr. Otto S. Schairer

Miss Olive Cornell, 69, of 209 Berwyn Place, Lawrence Township, died March 11 in Helene Fuld Medical Center. She is survived by a brother, William J. Cornell of Lawrenceville, and four nieces.

The service was held at a Lawrenceville funeral home, the Rev. Norman S. Kindt, pastor of the Lawrence Road Presbyterian Church, officiating.

Herbert S. Rockwell, 82, King George Road, Pennington, died March 12 at his home. He owned and operated the Hopewell Division of Rockwell International, formerly the Rockwell Manufacturing Company, from 1929 until he retired in 1975.

Mr. Rockwell was active in many civic affairs and was a member of the hopewell Lodge 155 F&AM and the Nassau Club. He served as director of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company and was on the boards of Bloomfield College, the Bordentown Military Institute and the New Jersey Home for Girls.

Husband of the late Edith Green Rockwell, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jean R. Scudder of Pennington; two sons, Robert J. of Newark, Ohio, and Richard H. of Chadds Ford, Pa.; a brother, Col. Willard F. Rockwell of Pittsburgh, and five grandchildren.

The service was held at the Hopewell Masonic Temple, Hopewell, the Rev. Robert A. Beringer of the Hopewell Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial was in Highland Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the Heart Fund or to the American Cancer Society.

France O. Anderson, 52, of 208 Berg Avenue, Hamilton Township, died March 7 in Mercer County Medical Center. He was a Deacon of St. Phillips Baptist Church in Hamilton Township.

Mr. Anderson is survived by his wife, Mrs. Benel H. Anderson; a daughter, Miss Cheryl L. Anderson of Trenton; a son, Chief Petty Officer Joseph Robert Anderson of San Diego, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Amie Week of Trenton, Mrs. Reesie Branch and Mrs. Addie Webber of Princeton; four brothers, Elder Alfonza Anderson of Eads, Tenn., Rev. Daniel C. Anderson and Rev. Millard F. Anderson Jr. of Trenton, and Rev. Theodore R. Anderson of Lewisburg, Tenn. and one grandson.

Anna Sprung, 77, of 279 Franklin Avenue, died at her home March 13. Born in New York City, she lived most of her life there until she moved to Princeton three years ago.

She was the widow of David L. Sprung, a prominent attorney who practiced in New York for 50 years. He died in Princeton in 1975.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edith S. Rose of Galbreath Drive, and Arnold Sprung, and five grandchildren.

A memorial service was held at the Jewish Center.

Mrs. Dagmar O. Marstad, 75, of Lincoln Avenue, Griggstown, died March 12 at the home of her daughter. She was born in Norway and lived in Griggstown 25 years. She was a member of the Montgomery Evangelical Free Church.

Wife of the late Trygve Marstad, she is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Grace Ramsland; two brothers, Paul and Rudolf Skjarum, both of Norway; a sister, Mrs. Hjordis Mathisen of Brooklyn, N.Y. and three grandchildren.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, with burial in Princeton Cemetery. Contributions may be made to Trinity College, Deerfield, Ill.

Karl V. Johnson, 84, Pennington-Rocky Hill Road, Hopewell Township, died March 13 in the Princeton Medical Center following a heart attack. Born in Sweden, Mr. Johnson was a veteran of World War I and lived in New York City before moving to this area 50 years ago.

He is survived by a brother, Axel Johnson of Sweden, and two nieces, Mrs. Merlin Becher of Hopewell Township and Mrs. Carl Hillman with whom he resided.

The Rev. Bruce Pullen of Calvary Baptist Church, Hopewell, conducted a private service. Memorial contributions may be made to the Calvary Baptist Church Memorial Fund.

Mrs. Annie Maple McHugh, 88, of 198 Spruce Circle, died March 14 at her home. She was a lifelong resident.

SPRING CLOTHES

On View at Robert Varga. It is always fun to have a preview of the months ahead, and this past MondayRobert Varga gave his customers just such a look with a Spring Into Summer fashion show.

Happily the trend towards investment clothes continues. The colors are rich, the fabrics handsome and the styles themselves, classic–with softly gathered skirts, silk blouses, tailored jackets and longer hemlines prevalent throughout.

Opening the show was a chamois flannel costume by Anne Klein consisting of a skirt that is gently gathered at the dropped waistline, a matching silk blouse with its own stock for the neckline and a shirt-style coat prettily gathered across the back yoke. The fabric itself is lovely with the look in color and texture of a real chamois cloth, $414.

Anne Klein has also designed a navy and white group for this Spring which features a vest look. In addition to the traditional style, there is one with a collar to be worn under a blazer and a long jumper version that teams well with matching pants. All the separates are interchangeable, and other pieces include a skirt or a double-breasted navy reefer coat, priced from $90 to $250.

Without doubt, the biggest fashion note for this season is the jumpsuit, and we felt John Anthony's off-white one with a grey pin stripe was most outstanding. The bodice is v-necked and sleeveless, giving it the look of a vest, and yet with the addition of a silk blouse, this tailored suit becomes extremely feminine, $278.

Classical Ultrasuede. In the space of only a few years, ultrasuede has become a classic. This is not unsurprising as it is not only easy to care for, but also comes in the most luscious colors imaginable.

In this miracle fabric Blassport has contributed a chamois pants ensemble that has a short sleeved jacket with breast pockets and a tie for the waist. Throughout the show many of the models were accompanied by men (also in clothes by the same designers) and in this case the man was wearing a matching long-sleeved shirt jacket–quite a handsome couple.

Other ultrasuede fashions selected by Robert Varga included a lilac zip-front jumper also from Blassport that was shown with a matching silk blouse complete with its own stock; a classic long-sleeved shirtwaist dress by Mollie Parnis in the most delicious pale (yet rich) blue; and an apricot dress with great detailing in bodice tucks, front buttons and back belt, also by Mollie Parnis, $168 to $380.

One other Mollie Parnis design particularly caught our attention. This one was a short though well below the knee) banana matte jersey dress with an elastic shirred waist, full skirt and sleeves, a v-neckline and a slit on the back just below the neck. This is a fluid dress that makes every move with the wearer for a totally feminine effect, $196.

For evening wear the most spectacular dress was a blue jersey by Geoffrey Beene. Beginning at the neckline, it flares to the hem, but maintains interest with numerous tucks that go from the neckline to below the waist. It has full long sleeves, ties at the nape of the neck, and swishes along in a dramatic fashion, $578.

For Summer. Looking ahead to summer a slightly wet model ran through the room in one-piece Gottex cobra print swimsuit with a plunging neckline that requires a figure worthy of the admiring glances that are sure to be cast in this direction. Also by Gottex is a group of honey-colored swimsuits that should perfectly set off a tan, $30 to $42.

For after-swim we can imagine nothing nicer than a simple long-sleeved, zip-front, blue terry jumpsuit with a narrow elastic waist. From the audience's reaction we were not the only ones who felt this way, $88.

Tennis' popularity is not exactly news, but recently the designers have taken an interest in the sport by creating fashions for the courts. Ralph Lauren and Calvin Klein suggest slightly flared shorts with a dark green stripe down the sides and a dark green shirt with a white collar, or a group of separates (white edged in yellow) that includes a t-shirt dress and a cardigan sweater, $20 to $40.

Also by Calvin Klein is some sportswear in white and a dark green called spinach. Included are cuffed ¾-leogth pants, a square necked t-shirt,

New Hair Salon Opens in Rocky Hill

Peppi Panzitta has finally achieved the dream of many a hairdresser — a shop of his own. Shown here in front of his new shop, Peppi of Peppi's Custom Hair Design will undoubtedly be recognized by many people as a former part-owner of the Doll House Beauty Salon.

Assisted by Miss Hattie (also from the Doll House) and Miss Betty, Peppi offers the standard beauty needs — from a simple haircut, to styling, to coloring. Particularly popular today are blow cuts because with the aid of a dryer and curling iron these are easily managed at home between visits.

Other services include facials, manicures and even ear piercing. Also with the longer look in men's hair styles, they are welcome here too.

Cheerfully decorated in lemon, lime and white, Peppi's Custom Hair Design at 133 Washington Street in Rocky Hill is open Monday through Saturday from 8 until 5 and Thursday eveings until 9.

pants, blazers and t-shirts, but our favorite choice was a sleeveless jumpsuit that is slightly bloused to give it a soft, two-piece look. With a white woven belt and a short-sleeved brief white jacket, this brown jumpsuit is outstanding. Priced from $46 to $150, all these separates come in a cotton and polyester blend.

Then from Diane Von Furstenberg Mr. Varga showed a signature dress which comes in navy with white writing in her popular, comfortable wrapped long-sleeved style. Also from this well-known designer is a zip-front tan jumpsuit with a white splatter print and a strapless long dress in white with an overall print of lavendar-pink tulips, $84 to $118.

All these and of course others, can be seen at Robert Varga, located on Route 1 in Lawrence Township near the Texas Avenue intersection.

ROTARY ASKS REPORT

On Controversial Candidate. Princeton's Rotary Club this week asked Dr. Paul Chesebro, a former Rotary president and currently a director of Rotary International, to investigate charges that the only nominee for president of Rotary International was a member of the Nazi party and a storm trooper.

The candidate is Wolfgang Wick, vice-chairman of the board of directors of the Austro-American Magnesite Company, with headquarters in Radenthein, Austria. Unless other nominations are made by April 16, Herr Wick automatically becomes president of the international service organization.

Earlier, it had been thought that members of Princeton's Rotary Club would be asked to pass a resolution urging Herr Wick to step down. The resolution was to have been worded in such a way that no reflection on him was intended, according to one member of Rotary who described Herr Wick as "in every respect qualified to be president, but just too controversial for such a position."

However, at Tuesday's luncheon meeting, after Dr. Chesebro had given a brief explanation of Rotary's election procedures, the Rotary membership asked him to investigate and report back next week. Dr. Chesebro said he plans to confer with the governor of Princeton's district, which comprises 64 clubs in central New Jersey, and with other clubs also.

It is possible, he said, that clubs may decide to nominate another candidate, thereby foreclosing Herr Wick's automatic election.

BAMBERGER'S TO OPEN

Thursday in Quaker Bridge Mall. Bamberger's 16th full-service department store, its second in Mercer County, will open Thursday. The contemporary two-level 220,000 square foot unit will be the first of four major department stores to open in the new Quaker Bridge Mall on U.S. Route 1 at Quaker Bridge Road in Lawrence Township.

Bamberger's plans to have strong appeal for younger shoppers with many youth-oriented shops featuring the latest with-it fashions and decorative home merchandise and accessories. Already famous among these are the Young Men's Shops and Junior Shops in other Bamberger's stores.

For the gourmet, the housewares area will include separate shops featuring specialized equipment ranging from imported professional cookware in fashion colors to the latest in gadgetry designed in response to a new area of customer interest.

Fine furniture displayed in interesting room settings will inspire new approaches and solutions to decorating problems. A wide range of electronic appliances and equipment from cameras and calculators to microwave and computerized ovens will be available.

Customers will find a separate Budget Store, a home recreation center, a greenhouse with everything from terrariums to trees, a restaurant, a gift shop and a beauty spa. Throughout the store, shoppers will find a wide range of both imported and domestic goods. Bamberger's buyers travel the world, utilizing their own buying skills and the international Bamberger's offices of R.H. Macy Co., Inc., Bamberger's parent company.

DIRECTOR NAMED

To Promote Quakerbridge Mall. Kravco, Inc. has named Stephen E. Fulcher of Hamilton Township promotion director of Quaker Bridge Mall.

Mr. Fulcher's prime responsibility will be to supervise the development and implementation of a promotional program for the Mall, located on Route 1 at Quaker Bridge Road in Lawrence Township.

A graduate of Ball State University, Mr. Fulcher brings to his new post wide experience gained from similar positions in Illinois, Louisiana and in his home state of Indiana. He is one of 200 accredited Shopping Center Promotion Directors, as certified by the International Council of Shopping Centers.

Stephen E. Fulcher

Mr. and Mrs. Fulcher and their daughter reside in Hamilton Township.

DRIVE-IN BANK?

For Shopping Center. Princeton Bank and Trust, rejected last year when it wanted to build a drive-in bank on the south side of the Princeton Shopping Center, is back before the Township Zoning Board again.

This time, the bank is asking permission to build a "free-standing" bank on the other side of the Center -- approximately where the mailboxes are now. The Zoning Board will hear the bank's appeal at the regular March meeting next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

The Board will also consider a request for a side-yard variance from J. Randall Nichols, owner of 233 Mt. Lucas Road. The building, with three apartments, must have a fire-escape to conform to state regulations, and the variance is needed to make room for the fire-escape.

Carnegie Development's townhouse project for the northern part of Mt. Lucas, will be continued from the February meeting.

RECORD PROFITS SET

By Princeton Applied Research. Princeton Applied Research Corporation has reported sales up by 22.2 percent to $11,266,000 and net income up by 41.2 percent to $860,000 for fiscal 1975 compared to the prior year's results.

PARC, a Princeton-based manufacturer of sophisticated research and analytical instrumentation, also reported an increase of 9 percent in orders for products in 1975.

During the year, Kenneth A. Klun, Manager of the PARC Sales Organization, and Donald M. Munroe, Manager of the Scientific Instrument Division, were appointed vice presidents.

An agreement in principle was reached in October, 1975 for the acquisition of PARC by EG&G, Inc. in a transaction to involve the exchange of approximately 500,000 shares of EG&G common stock for all PARC common stock issued and outstanding at the closing.

The exchange ratio is to be 0.55 share of EG&G for each share of PARC. EG&G, Inc., a scientifically-oriented organization which supplies components, instruments and services for commercial and government markets on an international scale, is listed on the New York Stock Exchange. It reported net income of $6,881,000 on sales of $176,056,000 for fiscal 1975.

The proposed acquisition is subject to approval by the boards of directors of both companies and by the shareholders of PARC and the Department of Justice.

EARTH STATION NEARS

For Dow Jones Plant. American Satellite Corporation and Dow Jones & Company, have signed an agreement for ASC to extend high speed facsimile service to the Dow Jones' South Brunswick site.

This new service will be provided by a receive-only earth station, scheduled for operation in September, 1976. It will receive full-size facsimile pages of the eastern edition of The Wall Street Journal via satellite at a rate of approximately 3.5 minutes per page.

This will be the third location in which American Satellite Corporation has provided facsimile services via satellite earth stations to Dow Jones in less than a year. The others, now operational, are located in Chicopee, Massachusetts and Orlando, Florida.

The South Brunswick earth station, located approximately 20 miles northeast of Princeton, will be similar to the first receive-only Dow Jones earth station in Orlando, Florida. The Orlando earth station, located next to the new Dow Jones printing plant, began operations formally on November 20, 1975. This facility is used to print the eastern edition of The Wall Street Journal at the rate of 70,000 newspapers per hour for distribution in the southeast.

The editorial and advertising material is composed at the Chicopee facility, converted into digital impulses, and transmitted at 150,000 bits per second. At the receiving site, the impulses are recorded on page-size photographic film, which is then used to make lithograph plates.

APPOINTED TO PROGRAM

As Contracts Manager. Jonas Cohen of 23 Pine Knoll Drive, Lawrenceville has been appointed to the National Contract Management Association's Certified Professional Contracts Manager Program. Mr. Cohen, Manager of Business Operations for RCA's Astro-Electronics Division, was cited for having "exceeded the exacting standards" set by the association.

Formerly of Martin Marietta Co. of Baltimore, Md., he joined RCA in 1962 as a Contracts Administrator and was involved in negotiating and administering contracts for the Atmosphere Explorer, Nimbus, and RCA Satcom satellite programs.

The Full Service Answer

ETS Hoping to Persuade Employees to Take The Vanpool Instead of Personal Car to Work

The vanpool, an increasingly popular commuter alternative to the personal car, has passed its "entrance exam" at Educational Testing Service (ETS).

After a two-year pilot project proved that vanpooling was economically and practically viable, the organization is taking steps to organize a vanpool program for its 2,000 employees.

More than 400 ETS staff members have already expressed interest in riding to work in 12-passenger vans to be leased by ETS under a program similar to those being tried at other large companies across the nation.

Each vanpool would be supported by fares from its 11 passengers, but would be underwritten against loss by the U.S. Department of Transportation. DOT and the New Jersey State Department of Transportation are encouraging large employers in the state to establish such programs to provide alternative means of transportation for employees.

Better Than Buses. "Vanpooling can work almost anywhere, even in places not suitable for conventional transit service like buses," said ETS Office Services manager Lou DeLauro, who is organizing the program. "There's no way we could provide bus service to all the places we can reach with the vans. All we need is a dozen people who live in the same general area and agree to ride together. For a bus route, we'd need at least 50."

A similar vanpool program at the 3M Company's 9,000-employee St. Paul office burgeoned in two years from a six-van experiment to a 67-van "caravan."

The ETS pilot vanpool was an accidental outgrowth of the organization's failed attempt to expand its bus transportation for employees during the gasoline shortage two years ago.

At that time, staff members Bill Murphy and Joe Belica, both Somerset residents, were the only passengers on a full-size, 60-passenger bus ETS ran only one day from New Brunswick to Princeton. The bus route was an out-and-out flop from the very first day, Murphy recalls.

"We didn't even go home on the bus that night," he said. "It was too expensive to run a bus just for two people, so ETS let us use a leased van to get home that night."

Little did they know that the van was to become the "personal bus" for themselves and seven other employees, and the pilot vehicle for an expanded vanpool program. With a solid, almost daily booking of eight passengers and the driver, the experimental vanpool is an unequivocal success.

"We've never missed a day of work," said driver Murphy proudly. "We've survived for two years and we've paid our way the whole time."

Money, Gas Saved. "It's a great way to come to work," added Mr. Belica, his backup driver. "You save money and conserve gas at the same time. I think we need to convince people somehow that we have to start conserving energy. Vanpools are one way to do that."

As the regular driver, Mr. Murphy rides for free. Mr. Belica and the other seven passengers, some of whom don't have a personal car, pay about $30 per month, the same fare charged by ETS to its employees who ride three ETS-chartered buses each day from Bucks County, Pa.

For Mr. Murphy and Mr. Belica, who have personal cars at home, the benefits are mostly economic. Mr. Murphy gets a free ride and saves on mileage on his personal car, while Mr. Belica said he's been able to get along without a second car he planned to buy two years ago.

"It's a financial saving for me not only because I don't have to buy and maintain a second car, but also because my family saves on car insurance, too."

Natural Team. In their pre-vanpool days, Mr. Murphy and Mr. Belica carpooled together. They live within a few blocks of each other in Somerset, making them a natural driving team.

"Having someone dependable who lives nearby is important," Mr. Murphy said. "If the backup driver lives close by, it's no problem for one person to drive the van to the other person's house and walk home. Or, if I wake up in the morning and feel sick, I give Joe a call and he can walk over and get the van."

For two other employees, Ida Borgia of South Brunswick Township and Pam Rosen of Princeton, membership in the vanpool is more than a mere financial benefit. Neither owns a car, and without the van they'd be forced to depend on friends or use some combination of public and private transportation to get to work.

Before she joined the vanpool, Ms. Borgia rode the Suburban Transit bus down Route 27 to Princeton and then got a ride the rest of the way to Lawrence Township from another employee.

"This is much more convenient," she said. "I get picked up almost in front of my house. And it's dependable. Come rain or shine or sleet or hail, someone is always there to pick you up and bring you to work."

The vanpool has been still more convenient for Ms. Rosen. When she moved to a new address within Princeton, Murphy shifted the vanpool's route to continue to provide her with transportation.

The vanpool membership has changed only slightly since it started, Mr. Murphy said.

"We've had a few people come in the pool for a while and then leave, but we always seem to keep most of our regulars."

TUESDAY TEA SET

To Feature "Recollector" Editor. Tea on Tuesdays at the Historical Society, Bainbridge House, 158 Nassau Street, Tuesday from 3:30 to 4:45 will feature Elric Endersby, founder and director of the Princeton History Project and editor of its monthly journal "The Princeton Recollector." Mr. Endersby is also coordinator of the monthly "Townspeople" gatherings for the sharing of memories of the people, places and events of Princeton past.

Members and their friends with long experience in Princeton are urged to share old photographs, clippings, letters, recipes (samples would be welcome) and personal memories. Unidentified photographs from the society's collection will be displayed in hopes of recognition.

Reservations are necessary. Call the Society at 921-6817.

FILM ON HAWAII SET

At YMCA. A film program on Hawaii will be offered Monday at 8 p.m. at the YMCA for all interested, after which the forthcoming YMCA Hawaii Trip scheduled for May 10-18 will be discussed. While the program is planned to tell about the trip, anyone may attend

The trip is being planned as part of the YMCA program for Retired Persons of the area, and will be under the leadership of Jenny Jackson. Adults of any age may participate. A sightseeing stop at San Francisco, four days at Waikiki, and three nights at outlying islands are planned.

and a little book to grow in.

At First National Bank of Princeton, your savings can earn a full 5% interest in a day-of-deposit to day-of-withdrawal account, provided the balance remains over $25. That's the highest interest allowed by law. And you get a passbook, too. There's no waiting for a quarterly statement. You have a permanent record you can hold on to.

But that's not all. If you have savings you can leave on deposit for a longer period of time, we have higher yield certificates available at various rates and maturities. Ask us for the details at any branch office.

So if you want to get more for your savings, stop by First National Bank of Princeton today. We'll help you choose the savings plan that's best for you.

Actors Turned Financiers. The Community Players this week cemented plans to acquire spacious "Avalon," made known their intentions of selling a series of three percent debenture bonds. To be issued in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000, they will be supplemented by outright contributions and the proceeds raised last February from "The Devil's Disciple." Total amount thought necessary: $20,000.

The picturesque home of the late Henry Van Dyke will be converted into a small theatre and clubrooms downstairs, apartments (for veterans) on the upper floors. An added feature will be a library which will serve as a Van Dyke memorial. To qualify as property-holders, the organization is now known as The Princeton Community Players Club, Inc.

Food Conservation Progresses. In Alexander Hall Tuesday night at 8:15, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will speak at a public meeting called to further Princeton's interest in aiding Europe's hungry millions. Sponsoring her appearance here are the mayor and council, the Princeton Committee of the Emergency Food Collection and the ever-active Princeton Chapter No. 1, American Veterans Committee.

Fossils Unearthed. The excavation for the new library has yielded a number of interesting pre-historic fossils. Delighted, Professor Glenn L. Jepsen and Geology Department associates plan to rope off a section of the big pit, hold-on-the-spot classes there. A fortnight will pass before a complete analysis of the findings will be made public, but a rough estimate of some of the pieces has set their age at about two hundred million years.

Super Traffic Problem Foreseen. University, Borough and Township officials have already conferred on possible solutions for the traffic tie-up which seems inevitable here on reunion weekend in June. Mayor Minot C. Morgan, Jr. believes a series of parking yards established on the outskirts of town, with buses providing transportation to centers of activity may be a partial answer.

Those in a position to know think as many as 3,000 additional cars will be in town Friday night and Saturday, June 21 and 22. More than that are on hand, of course, for football games but are only on their way in and out.

Questions of food and sleeping headquarters are slowly but surely being solved, with the beer shortage now the individual classes' biggest headache. Some indication of the problems arising can be gathered from the fact that whereas the average pre-war reunion attracted 3,500 alumni, this one is expected to draw a minimum of 12,000.

Twin Housing Projects Move Forward. At diagonally opposite points of Princeton this week the pace is increasing in the stubborn battle against the long-acute housing shortage. Slated for demolition in the next few days is "Stanworth," the 69-year-old stone residence on the spacious Sloane estate. It will be the first major sign of progress in the $1,000,000 project assigned to this area.

Two miles and more to the southeast, a part of the Township is being rezoned to make way for 250 temporary housing units in which as many married veterans enrolled in Princeton University will soon find living quarters. On the Devereux Memorial Polo Field (and adjacent property near the Robert Wicks' homestead), the University will install homes furnished it by the FHA. Occupancy is expected by the start of the Fall term in late September.

News of the Theatres

The Playhouse

The Sailor Takes a Wife (Friday, Saturday) Robert Walker and June Allyson are starred in a comedy about a sailor whose interrupted honeymoon is beset with numerous problems. The pace varies but the film is nearly always entertaining.

Devotion (Sunday through Wednesday) is a well acted but quite distorted version of the lives and loves of Charlotte, Emily and Anne Bronte. Aware that the inaccuracies will bother no more than a tenth of the customers, Warner Brothers have tossed fact aside, come up with a romantic bit strongly reminiscent of "Little Women." Ida Lupino, Paul Henreid and Olivia de Haviland head the cast.

The Virginian (Thursday, Friday, Saturday) is the third version of Owen Wister's famous novel about the Vermont school teacher and the Virginia gentleman whose lives are moulded by the seething West in its early years. Barbara Britton and Joel McCrea stand out in this well-played classic, which benefits from superb technicolor photography.

Sports in Short

High School Athletic Plant. The Borough Board of Education, in keeping with the trends of the times that point to unprecedented expansion in the world of interscholastic sport, has approved the expenditure of some $9,000 for long-needed improvements in the High School's athletic plant.

Lying just north of the school building, the main athletic field will soon start resembling a full-fledged sports arena as construction begins on an 8-foot high wire fence. Plans also call for completion by September 1st of "safetyized" bleacher seats providing space for 1800 sports spectators. The home side will have room for 1200 Borough rooters, with the remaining block going on the opposite side of the gridiron for the use of visitors.

Spring Sports. A marker on the road back to athletic normalcy was the announcement this week that the High School baseball team will play a full 12-15 game schedule this spring. The school's trackmen are also reconverting to peacetime operations on the cinders and are now pointing for the University of Pennsylvania's annual Relay Carnival on April 26th and 27th. School authorities also hope to send a tennis team into competition next month.

Miscellany. Bank Street residents, headed by Horace N. Dickey, Mrs. Thomas McCloskey and Arthur Kelly, have petitioned for a fire hydrant and the opening of their street at the north end so that it will lead to either Bayard Lane or Hulfish Street . . . the value of building permits, boosted by $870,000 in April (including $818,000 for the Sloane Estate project), now stands at $1,768,000 for four months, already the highest figure in a decade.

Miscellany. Mrs. Walter E. Beers and Mrs. Charles A. Williamson, elected elders of the Second Presbyterian Church, are the first women in the church's history to serve in this capacity . . . the Princeton Democratic Club will hold a rally Monday night at 8 in the Chestnut Street firehouse . . .

Hope is running high that the two new, $14,000 fire engines will be on hand for the fire department's annual inspection in June. . . . painting of lines for the new 35-degree angle parking on the north side of Nassau Street, due to start any day, will decrease the number of spaces by one in eight but will ease the motorist's problem in getting in and out . . .

News Of The CHURCHES

BISHOP TO SPEAK

At Catholic-Methodist Seminar. A seminar on Catholic-Methodist Dialogues will be held Tuesday from 1 - 4 at the Aquinas Institute on Stockton Street. The program is jointly sponsored by the Catholic Diocesan Commission on Ecumenical and Interreligious Affairs and the New Jersey Area of the United Methodist Church.

The first speaker will be Bishop Prince A. Taylor Jr., Bishop of the New Jersey Area of the United Methodist Church. He will speak on "Where are We in the International Dialogue between Methodist and Catholic?" A discussion will follow.

The second talk will be given by Father Edward J. Ciuba, rector of Immaculate Conception Seminary in Darlington. His subject will be "Where are we in the National Dialogue between Methodists and Catholics?"

TRINITY RUMMAGE SALE

Saturday at Church. Trinity Episcopal Church's third annual Treasure and Rummage Sale will be held Saturday from 10 to 4 in the church hall, 33 Mercer Street.

Committee heads have announced the arrival of dozens of new and nearly new dresses, coats and slacks for women and girls, men's jackets, trousers and shoes as well as young men's, toddlers' and infants' clothing. In addition there is a generous offering of jewelry, musical instruments, original American Heritage volumes, dollhouses, needlepoint specialities, willow-ware pieces, a valuable antique secretary circa 1768, hi-fi sets, exotic handworked material from India and the Orient and electric appliances. Light refreshments will be available.

Committee members include the general co-chairmen, Hope Tukey and Nora Wilmot; volunteers, Ginny McKee; food, Ginna Ashenfelder; and publicity, Emily L. Bennett. Trinity's Boy Scout Troop 50 will assist with food sales and parking. Donations will be welcome.

Call the church office, 924-2277, for pick-up arrangements.

RECITAL SUNDAY

At Pennington Church. William O. Rarich, organist, and Helen M. Holcombe, soprano, will give a concert in the First United Methodist Church of Pennington on Sunday at 4 in the church sanctuary. They will be assisted by Wilford L. Holcombe on the clarinet.

This concert is the second in a series given by the church to celebrate the acquisition of a Saville organ. Other concerts are planned for later in the spring.

Mr. Rarich has been the organist of the Pennington church for over 36 years. He formerly taught music at the Pennington School and is a graduate of Westchester State College.

Mrs. Holcombe, the director of music of the Pennington Church, is a graduate of Westminster Choir College. Primarily a recording artist, she has made albums and recordings for radio and television. In addition she has taught voice privately.

PASSOVER DESCRIBED

In Jewish Center Workshops. Rabbi Melvin Jay Glatt will conduct the first of two workshops on "Designing an Individualized Passover" Monday at 8 at the Community House of the Jewish Center, 457 Nassau Street. At this session he will present various ideas about the role of the leader at the Seder, the Passover home service, and about participation by the family and guests, including the children.

On Tuesday evening at 8 the Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street, will be the setting for an explanation of the meaning of the ancient festival of Passover, its rituals aod symbols. Rabbi Glatt will be the principal speaker and will illustrate and demonstrate aspects of the Seder (meaning "order" of ritual).

Sponsored jointly by the Jewish Center and the Princeton Interfaith Council, this educational presentation is meant for all those in the community who wish to achieve an understanding of the beautiful Passover holiday.

BULLETINS

The Calvary Baptist Church, Broad Street, Hopewell will hold its annual Roast Beef Dinner Saturday from 4 to 7. There will be home baked goodies and handcrafted gift items for sale. Admission is $4.50 for adults, $2 for children, and tots under five are free.

The Trenton State College Bicentennial Singers will bring their musical review, "Yankee Doodle Fought Here," to Cabaret Night at the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill and State Roads, Saturday at 8:15 as a benefit for the roof fund. Dr. Gordon Myers, conductor of the group and professor of music at Trenton State, researched the materials for the show which includes homespun humor, scraps of wit and authentic music as early Americans sang it.

Ticket includes refreshments. Reservations may be made by calling 448-0492 or 924-3923.

The Presbyterian Co-Operative Nursery School is taking registrations for the 1976-77 school year. Classes are open for 2, 3 and 4 year olds. Some scholarships are available. The registrar is available at 921-3863.

The Women's Day Committee of Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, Witherspoon and Maclean Streets, will sponsor a bake sale and bazaar Saturday at 10. A spaghetti dinner for $2.50 will be held at noon.

"ARCHITECTURE IS FROZEN MUSIC"

Nature created the setting, architect and owners, the house, and together they composed an impressive symphony! Set on a stunning four acre hillside and set off by its many rugged boulders and towering trees, the house was designed to flow with the land Large areas of bronze tinted glass take advantage of breathtaking outlooks to south and west; small intimate balconies and protective "play decks" bring inside and outside together Views are everywhere

The house is spacious—with a living room whose ceiling soars almost three stories high, and six or seven bedrooms situated for the ultimate in privacy for parents and guests—yet intimate and warm in its use of materials, color and scale Throughout the house, from superb kitchen, tasteful baths, dressing rooms, numerous closets, two zone air conditioning to the smallest detail, only the best has been used This is a home to enthrall all admirers of fine contemporary design. $265,000

can you find

Don't be disappointed and say "I wish I had..." after our southern departure.

Prices are low now, for packing is a chore.

Two large copper masthead lights, truly reasonable price. Either may be bought separately

Wedgewood plate of soft paste, dated 1770. And an eighteenth century Delft plaque.

A Gilbert Stuart portrait of Mrs. Washington, on gold leaf oval frame

Exceptional oil paintings, one by Ethel Ubert, 1889; one attributed to "A.M.", possibly Augustus Moreland; and a C.C. Ellis of Chesterfield, New Jersey

Some rather fine prints, such as two from the tapestries of Albrecht Durer. And French chromolithograph, numbered 6 out of 50, by Philip Debonvel. 74 pages from Harper's magazine, time of the Civil War. Generals, officers, battles, three pertaining particularly to women, and considered valuable. Two illustrated Harper's children's magazines, bound, 1880 and 1860.

Three very interesting fans, having belonged to Mrs. Grover Cleveland. They are French, signed by artists, and most exceptional. Also in excellent condition.

Still interested in buying small things easy to pack, such as dolls, jewelry, etc.

Rural Elegance

Spectacular estate nestled in six acres of woods in the Northwest section of Princeton. A custom crafted all brick rambling colonial designed by Thompson, and built by Hunt & Augustine.

Five bedrooms, four fireplaces and three and a half baths in the main house. The charming guest house has large living room, bedroom and bath. There are two streams and two ponds on the property. Oversized heated pool, beautiful terraces and excellent landscaping. Details and extras too numerous to mention — however, nothing has been overlooked.

Brochure available upon request.

The properties listed here are but a sampling of the King's Grant offerings throughout the entire central New Jersey area. We have full data including house plans for your information.

King's Grant is the Exclusive Local Representative for Homerica, The Nation's Leading Home-Finding Service

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

A house of traditional design, this is a desirable center-hall Colonial with spacious living and dining rooms overlooking the serenity of woods to the rear of the property. The handsomely detailed 18th Century staircase rises to four family bedrooms and two baths. Now being offered by King's Grant at $138,500.

LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP

A well modernized brick and frame house, split level in design for convenient contemporary living. The particularly handsome family room is but one fine feature of this compact house. The grounds have well established plantings on a third acre plot. $51,500.

COUNTRY PROPERTIES

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

An investment opportunity almost unique today in Princeton's Township: over nine acres of high dry, wooded and rock land overlooking a beautiful residential area and situated off a quiet cul-de-sac. Being offered for $75,000.

HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP

Seventy acres of superb central New Jersey farm land easily available within minutes of Princeton. The owner is asking $187,500.

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP

There are over eighty acres of farm and woods with an early 18th Century house completely modernized some years ago. Original wide plank floors. $225,000

SOUTH BRUNSWICK TOWNSHIP

A superbly maintained fifteen year old Colonial style house situated on a third of an acre in nearby Kendall Park. Ideal for the young growing family, the house has many spacious areas including the panelled family room and summer porch, yet is an easily maintained property. There are 4 bedrooms and 2½ baths. With Spring around the corner, the landscaped yard will be enjoyed for its privacy; a stand of scotch pines has matured into a beautiful screen. Now being offered at $52,500.

A PRINCETON SUMMER RENTAL

A lovely three bedroom house with handsome shady landscaping, overlooks Lake Carnegie - ideal for summer living. Available from May 15th through August 31st. The owner has requested no small children or pets, and is asking $400 a month.

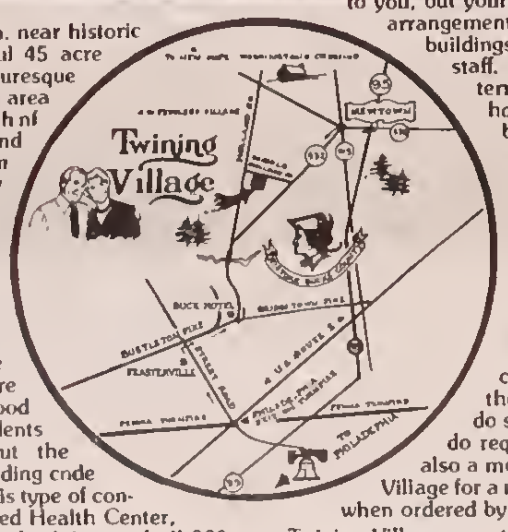
THE RETIREMENT COMMUNITY WITH T.L.C.

TWINING VILLAGE in Historic Bucks County

Tomorrow's Living Community — Today

Tender Loving Care

Location and Setting
Twining Village is located in Holland, Pa. near historic Newtown, Bucks County, on a beautiful 45 acre wooded tract of land invaded by a picturesque rambling creek in a suburban residential area on Middle Holland Road, a few miles north of Philadelphia, a few miles west of I-95, and a few more miles south of Washington Crossing—most handy to some truly fascinating points of interest such as New Hope, Lambertville, Peddler's Village, Princeton, Neshaminy and Oxford Valley Malls, thus offering a wide variety of exposure to cultural centers, shops, theaters, restaurants, etc.



Construction of Buildings
Twining will be constructed of concrete block and brick masonry, making it more fire-resistant than the less expensive all-wood "California" type construction. Our residents receive quality construction throughout the complex, thereby exceeding the strict building code of prestigious Northampton Township. This type of construction will prevail in not only the 80 bed Health Center, but also in the Community Center, dining facilities, and all 220 residential units. Our most outstanding feature will be fully-covered and glass-enclosed walkways, allowing you to traverse throughout the entire community, one end to the other, without being exposed to inclement weather, step-climbing (there are none), nor attempting any more than the slightest incline. Truly, this is an engineering feat, but what else would you expect from your builder, who is local and has earned his reputation by constructing over five hundred custom homes in the Twining Village area.

Residential Accommodations designed with T.L.C.
"Complete independence" succinctly describes your residential life-style at Twining. Quality, comfort and simplicity are evident in one and two-story residential clusters, each of which has its own gathering rooms, gardens, and recreation areas; yet all are interconnected by the subtle glass-enclosed walkways leading to all areas of Twining Village, including a lovely brook in our 14-acre forest preserve.

There are four living designed apartment types, none of which wastes one square foot of valuable space. They range in area from 490 to 980 square feet and must be seen in order to be appreciated. All apartments include a fully electric G.E. kitchen; roomy, specially-designed baths with each bedroom; air-conditioning and heating by G.E. with individually controlled wall units in each room; a computerized emergency call system covering fire, smoke, burglary, and help alarms; weatherproofed aluminum windows and storm-sash; aluminum sliding glass doors; your choice of terrace or balcony; maximum soundproofing; walk-in closets; TV master antenna outlets in each room; wall-to-wall carpets; draperies, private telephone; additional substantial storage cubicles.

Entrance fees are scaled to the sizes of the four apartment types.

Community Services
A monthly charge covers the long list of services offered by the community.

All apartments are cleaned once a week and disposals are picked up at regular intervals. Bedroom and bathroom linen are furnished and laundered weekly. Washers and dryers are available to you, but your personal laundry can be done for you by arrangement. Full security and maintenance of the buildings and gardens are provided by Twining's staff. Green-thumbers can garden their own terrace and get an early start in our greenhouse. Several acres of open ground have been set aside for any interested potential farmers. There will be regularly scheduled transportation to stores, shopping centers, and areas of daily interest.

Breakfast, lunch and dinner are prepared and served daily, in the dining room by Stouffer's. Residents make their selections from a varied menu and are free to come in at any time during the period when the dining room is open. All three meals are included in the monthly charge, but those who prefer to make their own breakfast or lunch (or both) may do so with a reduction in the monthly fee. We do request your joining us for dinner. There is also a meal credit for residents away from Twining Village for a month or more. Special diets are prepared when ordered by a physician.

Twining Village, a not for profit community, is looking for residents that possess the ability for enjoying a long, happy, and healthy life. Twining Village is a Total Life Community featuring, as always, TLC; with the Tender Loving Care involving complete security and the ultimate in health care.

There is also a gift and sundry shop, snack area, beauty salon, and barber shop. Extra meal servings are available, also over night visitors quarters. Charter vehicles are available for group activities. There is a library, theatre-auditorium, lounges with kitchens for private parties, ceramics, weaving, woodworking, jewelry, and fine art workshops. Indoor recreational facilities are in evidence.

Twining's WTVT TV channel—for and by the residents, with cable to see New York stations. A community newspaper will inform you of all events such as small theatre companies, musical groups, lecturers. Outdoors are for birdwatchers and athletic endeavors.

Total Lifetime Medical Care with T.L.C.
In addition to independent apartment living, three levels of care are provided to Twining's members. Intermediate-care facilities furnish practical nursing care for members who are somewhat physically limited, and skilled nursing care is provided, together with custodial care, in the Health Center, as required.

Nurses are on 24-hour duty, with doctors of every specialty on immediate call, either from the Health Center or from your own apartment. A clinic with a full staff of physicians is always available. Our own pharmacy will supply your prescription needs. Hospital care, if necessary, has been arranged for at two nearby hospitals.

All of these benefits will be provided for you through our health program, which is offered at no extra cost, thereby enabling you to enjoy complete independence and security with dignity.

Am I Qualified?
If you are 65 years of age or older, and if your spouse is at least 62 years, then you qualify. The sale of your home or other realty may provide the membership fee and social security, pensions, investments, discontinuance of taxes and other home upkeep costs could provide the monthly fee. Remember, there will be no need to save for the future years, since Twining Village will provide all necessities of life except for your clothing needs.

Twining Village could be the solution to all your future problems.

A LOOK AT THE PAST

Princeton University was first chartered as the "College of New Jersey" in 1746 by Acting Governor John Hamilton. The charter was granted to a group of Presbyterian ministers, and while it was founded in that context, it was liberal in character. The first president was the Reverend Jonathan Dickinson, with the college opened in his house in Elizabethtown. The class consisted of six students, the most famous ultimately being Richard Stockton, signer of the Declaration of Independence. President Dickinson died of pleurisy during his first year of office and the leadership passed to Reverend Aaron Burr (father of the more famous Burr), who established the college in Newark and would be its president for 10 years.

It was during this time that a permanent location was sought for the college. New Brunswick was prominently mentioned, and the Trustees resolved to locate the college there provided the inhabitants would secure to it one thousand pounds, ten acres of land contiguous to the college and 200 acres of woodland within three miles of town. These requests were not met by New Brunswick, and at that point four men from Princeton stepped in and fulfilled the requirements. These men were Richard Stockton, Thomas Leonard, John Hornor, and Nathaniel Fitz Randolph. An additional good friend of the college was Governor Belcher who supported the central location of Princeton.

Work was commenced in 1754, and in the fall of 1756 President Burr and some seventy students moved from Newark to Princeton. The first building, though suffering twice from severe fires, remains standing today as "Nassau Hall". Although long symbolic of Princeton in many ways, its most famous moment occurred in 1783 when it was occupied by Congress.

Henderson, Of Course

ON SPRINGDALE ROAD OVERLOOKING THE GOLF COURSE!....in one of Princeton's choicest spots, here is a well-constructed easily maintained three-bedroom English cottage! Gracious living room with fireplace, stepdown library opening out to a custom-built deck overlooking very private, fenced and beautifully landscaped gardens. Formal dining room and a very good kitchen with utility area plus powder room complete the first floor. Copious storage and a bath and a half up, with a full basement. Only $115,000!

SYLVAN WONDERLAND OF MAGNIFICENT PLANTINGS, TALL TREES, EASILY MAINTAINED GROUNDS, IS THE SETTING FOR THIS ARCHITECT DESIGNED CONTEMPORARY WITH AN INGROUND ANGULAR POOL AFFORDING ALL THE PRIVACY ONE WOULD WISH FOR! Two levels of living combine the best features for open informal entertaining, yet provide unlimited nooks and corners for a family of individual tastes and interests! Shown above is the main level overlooking the planned gardens, expansive deck and neighborhood lake. The outdoors is brought in by ground-to-ceiling thermopane box bay windows, sliding glass doors, and a commanding skylight over all! Of course, this innovative plan includes the usual amenities of kitchen and dining areas, bedrooms, library, studio, baths and more, but it is the extraordinary way it is all "put together" that must be seen! One and a half acres of au natural land. $147,500

TWO-WAY VIEWING...It affords ranch-like living on one floor, while virtually doubling the space on the lower level (which can ony be seen from the back!) Foyer, living room with fireplace that opens as well to the dining room, fully equipped kitchen with dining area, master bedroom and bath, two other bedrooms and full bath. A wonderfully bright house with a deck across the back of it from which to enjoy the woods and brook! Downstairs: family room with floor-to-ceiling brick fireplace, two bedrooms (or one may be a den) and full bath. Utility room, too. The bedrooms and family room all have French door opening to the patio. 2.78 acres. $115,000

BRIGHT AND BEAUTIFUL BUY...on Princeton Avenue, Rocky Hill, a newly decorated, spic and span, six year old colonial! Living room with fireplace, dining room, sunny spacious kitchen, den with sliding doors to a 25' wooden deck! A powder room plus an extra downstairs bedroom makes this a versatile house. Four more comfortable bedrooms and two full baths complete the second floor. Plenty of yard room on 1.4 acres for play area, vegetables, flowers, whatever you wish. Just a few miles straight to the Princeton Public Library and Nassau Street. A golden opportunity for a smart buyer. $82,900

A VERY SPECIAL SOUTHERN COLONIAL OVERLOOKING THE BEDENS BROOK GOLF COURSE....in a nearby area of fine estates, here is an extraordinary custom-built house featuring gracious, spacious living room with fireplace, separate dining room, warm eat-in kitchen with exquisite cabinetry, family room with planked floor and floor-to-ceiling brick fireplace. Master bedroom suite with full bath, three other comfortable bedrooms and hall bath. Many extras....stereo and inter-com built-in, central vacuum system, burglar and fire alarms with smoke detector, wine cellar with European door! Beautiful pastoral acreage 250 x 600 with pines, hollys and dogwoods! $129,500!

A PERFECT HOUSE FOR A FAMILY MOVING UP WHO HATE TO LEAVE A GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD BEHIND! This is a custom-designed two-story colonial with every convenience imaginable in the 3,400 square feet of living space. Fully carpeted and decorated to the nth degree: living room, dining room, spacious family room with brick wall fireplace, sparkling kitchen with all amenities. Five bedrooms, 2½ baths. Beautifully finished family and game rooms in the basement, too, with a wet bar and dancefloor! Outside there's a redwood fenced concrete and stone pavillion surrounding a 48' Sylvan pool. More features too numerous to describe. Please come see for yourself. Just over $100,000!

ROSEDALE ROAD, just across the Princeton line....extraordinary convenience and privacy....on two full acres, recently restored and redecorated! A charming colonial combining the best features of older construction with modern design: slate roof, plaster walls, French doors, wainscoting, gracious flagstone porch, attractive courtyard PLUS central air conditioning, modern kitchen, underground wiring, humidifiers. Furthermore, the best of all, this four bedroom house has a separate garage and a four-room rentable apartment with its own utilities, making this the best investment on today's market. $140,000

DEAR PROPERTY OWNERS AND REAL ESTATE AGENTS: Recently I retired as a N.Y. business executive and have now been appointed a full-time professor here. As a result, I want to live in the area permanently. I'd like to rent an unfurnished apartment or small house--something attractive or perhaps unique. My timetable is flexible and can be made to fit your availability. Will take occupancy anytime you say in April, May, June or July. I own property myself in another town and will respect yours. This week I plan to temporarily live in the Princeton area so I can follow up on your reply in person. If you have something special and want a special kind of person to occupy it, write or leave a message at Box E-36, Town Topics. 3-18-2t

Meet Cholderton Yeoman--A Cleveland Bay Who Is Just One of Four of His Kind in the U.S.

CHOLDERTON YEOMAN: This pure-bred Cleveland Bay stallion has such a gentle disposition that the two-year old daughter of his owners, Bill end Joanne Dorman of Povince Line Road, can pull up vegetables from the family plot and feed them to him over the fence in perfect safety.

An unusual breed of horse, one fit to draw a queen's coach or a farmer's plow, now calls a Province Line Road pasture his home.

Cholderton Yeoman, a pure-bred Cleveland Bay stallion, was flown last June from one of the oldest Cleveland Bay horse farms of England to his new home with Bill and Joanne Dorman of Province Line Road. Mrs. Dorman's father, Captain P.M.L. Edmunds, raised Cleveland Bays on his estate in Salisbury for nearly 60 years until his death in early 1975.

The Cleveland Bay is the only horse native to Great Britain and represents a merger between Chapmans, a tough, hardworking horse used over a century ago for back-packing loads of coat for 40-50 miles across the rough moorland of Yorkshire, and the Yorkshire coach horses, a big horse used to pull the royal mail coaches. The breed combines the strength of a work horse with the conformation of a thoroughbred and an endurance which is all its own.

First and foremost, the Cleveland Bays are coach horses and have been carefully bred for this purpose. All are of a rich brown bay color, with black "points" (lower legs, mane and tail) and no white except for a star on the forehead. All stand between 15'3" and 16'3" and have over nine inches of bone beneath the knee.

Thus they can be beautifully matched as driving pairs and four-in-hand driving teams. Although the Windsor Greys traditionally pull the English monarch's own coach, it is the Cleveland Bays which pull other coaches in the royal procession and which are sent around to a newly arriving ambassador to bring him (or her) to Buckingham Palace to present his credentials.

Use is World Wide. In addition to supplying the Queen with many horses, for which he received the Royal Warrant, Mrs. Dorman's father exported Cleveland Bays to countries all around the world, where they are still being used to pull the ceremonial carriages of emperors, monarchs and state dignitaries. At one time, the estate in Salisbury boasted 32 teams and five stallions.

Apart from ceremonial use, progress in the form of the automobile eventually relegated the proud horses to farm lands. There it was discovered that they could accomplish the plowing, lumbering and carting of work horses in half the time of other horses. Eventually they were superseded by the tractor, but they are still used in the Yorkshire dales for working the land and herding the sheep as well as in hunting.

In recent times, the breed has been in danger of extinction, and it was saved largely by the determination of a few enthusiasts such as Mrs. Dorman's father. "The horses were his whole life," she says, "for which he received little recognition." She wants to continue his work and therefore has brought Yeoman to this country, where he is one of four in the entire U.S. and the only one of his kind in the northeast.

A former airline stewardess in London, she used her free weekends to help break in the freshly-weaned foals. Yeoman, who is now seven years old, was one of her charges. He was also one of her father's favorites and had been sought by the government of Japan.

Now at Stud. Yeoman is currently standing at stud at George Millar's training stable near Frenchtown. Mrs. Dorman hopes that his offspring will earn some success. She cites the tremendous revival of interest in carriage driving in this country.

She also feels that the extraordinary versatility of the breed, their enthusiasm for work, their innate jumping ability, sureness of foot and calm disposition will be an asset in cross-breeding with any of the American breeds.

Mrs. Dorman is looking forward to Yeoman's return to his home pasture in the summer. "He's so adorable," she says with obvious affection for her big, versatile Cleveland Bay.

News Of The THEATRES

NEW PLAY SCHEDULED

By Theatre Intime. Rehearsals are now underway for the next production of Theatre Intime's exciting and challenging spring season, the powerful drama, "We're on the One Road."

In keeping with its theme of presenting the original and unusual works of new authors, "One Road" is the work of Philomena Muinzer '77. She is known by Princeton audiences for her work as a composer with the Princeton Triangle Club, including "Decadence Is Divine" and the popular "I'll Never Do a Fast Dance Again."

Ms. Muinzer, a native of Northern Ireland, has painted a potent and disturbing portrait of the troubles which have ravaged her homeland. The place is Belfast; and 17-year-old Carmel is trying desperately to keep herself removed from the rapidly-increasing violence. Her tenuous grip on a peaceful life is shattered by the arrival of 15-year-old Rory, an IRA fugitive, at her home. What follows is a confrontation between Carmel, the IRA and her rapidly disintegrating way of life.

"We're On The One Road" will be performed April 1, 2, 3, 8, 9 and 10. Tickets are now available at the box office in Murray Theater, and may be reserved by calling 452-8181 Monday through Saturday, 1 to 8 p.m. Ticket prices are $3.50 for adults, and $2.50 for students with I.D.'s.

NEXT SEASON.....

At McCarter. In the theatre, the final curtain has hardly descended before the opening night of the next season is in rehearsal -- figuratively speaking -- and it is even so at McCarter.

Six plays are under consideration for presentation in the '76-'77 season. There seems to be optimism at McCarter that there will indeed be a '76-'77 season, a consumation devoutly to be wished, but by no means an assurance until there is enough money in the bank.

Plays under consideration are Shaw's "Major Barbara" and his "Heartbreak House," Tennessee Williams' "The Rose Tattoo" and Noel Coward's comedy, "Design for Living."

Also Friedrich Duerrenmatt's chiller, "The Physicists" and Strindberg's expressionistic "A Dream Play." McCarter is considering one of two Ibsens – "John Gabriel Borkman" or "Little Eyolf", and the Shakespeare may be "Cymbeline."

As usual, McCarter will offer a newcomer, and next year it may be the world premiere of "Angel City," written especially for McCarter by Sam Shepard. He did "The Tooth of Crime" two seasons ago.

PLANNING FOR "GIVE 'EM HELL, HARRY": Mrs. Paul B. Mott Jr., Mrs. John M. Connolly Jr. and Mrs. Charles R. Parmele are members of the Lawrenceville School Parents' committee promoting the March 29 performance of the one-man show on President Truman. The event will benefit the Scholarship Fund.

News of the Theatres

Year with a celebration of the national sport baseball, as it performs the Broadway comedy "Damn Yankees" this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The show is under the direction of Demis Jones, who has directed all of the school's productions. Barry Ellison is in charge of the singing and Ms. D'Arcy Achzinger in charge of choreography. Among the hit songs are "Heart" and "Whatever Lola Wants."

Lead roles in the play are performed by Willard Wright, Rick Edleblut, Ellen Gittins, Pat Russo, Carol Kehoe and Tom Tressnam. For ticket information call 799-3200.

PLAY ON TRUMAN

To Benefit Lawrenceville Scholarship. The one-man drama, "Give 'em Hell Harry!", based on the life and times of Harry Truman, 33rd President of the United States, will be presented in the Kirby Arts Center at The Lawrenceville School, on Monday, March 29, at 8:30 p.m.

Playwright and co-producer Samuel Gallu has added the stopover in Lawrenceville to the play's current national tour as a benefit for the Parents at Lawrenceville Scholarship Fund. He is sponsoring the show as his gift to the School where his son, Timothy, is a ninth grader.

The play stars Ed Nelson, veteran television, stage, and movie actor, in the marathon role that has won him critical acclaim. Perhaps best known for his role as Dr. Michael Rossi in the popular TV series, "Peyton Place," Mr. Nelson made his movie debut in 1956 with Joseph Cotton and Teresa Wright in "The Steel Trap" and has appeared in 21 motion pictures and given over 1500 television performances. On stage he has appeared in such diverse roles as Stanley in "A Streetcar Named Desire" and Heathcliff in "Wuthering Heights."

Tickets for the March 29 performance may be obtained at The Jigger Shop in Lawrenceville at $10, $7.50, $5 and $2.50, or by mail by sending a check and stamped, self-addressed envelope to "Give 'em Hell Harry," Box 6125, Lawrenceville.

AUDITIONS SCHEDULED

For Dos Passos' "USA." The Princeton Community Players will hold auditions for its next production, "USA," by John Dos Passos Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 at the PCP Playhouse, 171 Broadmead. Everyone is welcome to try out for this play, which has a large cast.

Performances are planned for the weekends of April 30, May 1 and 2; May 7, 8 and 9; and May 14 and 15.

PLAYHOUSE

The Sunshine Boys. Neil Simon's Broadway comedy hit about a pair of elderly vaudevillains who are coaxed out of retirement for a glossy TV special and proceed to reignite the jucier moments of their career-long feud has been brought to the screen, starring Walter Matthau and George Burns.

They are superb as the two antagonists who never lapse far enough into senility to forget the sheer pleasure of needling one another into utter exasperation. Matthau fans will especially enjoy the action, as he dominates the film version.

Matthau plays Willy Clark, the more volatile half by far of "Lewis & Clark," a famous comedy act that broke up 12 years earlier when Al Lewis (Burns) decided to go into retirement, leaving Matthau to build up a stock of resentment that can provoke strokes at the mention of Burns' name. The two are brought together by Matthau's eager agent-nephew, who has done everything possible to find the old man some work, as part of a TV special on American comedy. Reluctantly, they agree to pull their famous "doctors routine" out of mothballs.

From the start they are at each others' throats. Matthau rejoices in throwing off his partner's timing by introducing new lines. Burns brings Matthau to near violence by emphasizing his lines with a series of pokes into the shoulder and by his habit of liquifying his words so that Matthau gets spritzed in the eye with every "T".

Exasperating, yes, but somehow an underlying warmth and sense of affection for each other comes through in a re-affirming ending that will leave a lot of people feeling good.

KINGFISH!

Descendant of Two Bands. Kingfish, a new rock band formed from members of The Grateful Dead and the New Riders of the Purple Sage, will play Alexander Hall Tuesday, March 30 at 8 p.m. (Tickets at McCarter's box-office.)

Guitarist Bob Weir, a founder of The Grateful Dead, is described as the prime mover behind Kingfish. His colleagues are Dave Torbet from the New Riders, Matthew Kelley of the T-Bone Walker group, Chris Herold from the New Delhi River Band and Robby Hodinott whose affiliations are not given.

Spring pop events on McCarter's schedule will start this Saturday when singer-poet Patti Smith makes two appearances – 8 and 10:30 p.m. – at Alexander Hall.

Concerts by Phoebe Snow scheduled for Saturday, April 3, have been postponed to Saturday, May 1. Miss Snow will appear in Alexander Hall at 7:30 and 11 p.m. Her special guest will be David Sanborn.

PATTI: The poet-singer Patti Smith will give two performances — 8 and 10:30 p.m. — at Alexander Hall Saturday under the auspices of McCartar.

ALL-BACH PROGRAM SET

For McCarter March 29. The Brandenburg Ensemble and Soloists will be heard at McCarter Theatre in an All-Bach program on Monday, March 29, at 8:30 p.m., in the third concert of Series II of the Princeton University Concerts.

Under the direction of Alexander Schneider, the Brandenburg Ensemble brings together some of the country's finest concert artists and chamber music players. The featured soloists in Monday's performance will include Jaime Laredo, violin; Rudolph Vrbsky, oboe; Gerard Schwarz, trumpet and Renee Siebert, flute.

The All-Bach program will include the "Concerto in C minor for Oboe and Violin;" "Concerto in D minor for Two Violins;" "Violin Concerto in D minor" and the "Brandenburg Concerto No. 2 in F Major."

Alexander Schneider, conductor and violinist, has performed at all of the world's great music centers. Currently active as guest conductor in this country and abroad, Mr. Schneider has conducted the Los Angeles Philharmonic, San Francisco Symphony, St. Louis Symphony, the Israel Philharmonic, as well as other major ensembles in the United States, Europe, Central and South America. Mr. Schneider and the Brandenburg Ensemble last appeared in Princeton in 1973 in the first concert of Series II.

Tickets at $6.95 and $5.50 are available at the McCarter Theatre Box Office. Students' tickets at $2.50 are available at the box office the day of the concert.

PIANO CONCERT MAR. 28

Jeffrey Farrington to Play. Jeffrey Farrington, pianist, will give a concert on Sunday, March 28 at 3:00 p.m. in Woolworth Center, sponsored by the Friends of Music at Princeton.

A graduate student in music theory, Mr. Farrington gave a concert in Princeton last year. He has studied with Katya Andy and is currently a student of Robert Helps. For his concert on Sunday, Mr. Farrington will perform: Haydn: Sonata in E flat; Beethoven: Sonata in A flat, Op. 110; Chopin: Berceuse in D flat, Op. 57 and Brahms: Eight Piano Pieces, Op. 76.

The concert is free and open to the public.

THAT OLD JAZZ

From Preservation Hall. An evening of traditional New Orleans jazz, played by the men who originated it – that's the promise of The Preservation Hall Jazz Band of New Orleans, which will play its annual spring engagement in Princeton on Friday and Saturday, April 9 and 10, at 8 p.m. in Alexander Hall.

Most of the members of the band are in their seventies. "Gentleman" Jim Robinson, on trombone, is the senior at age 84. "Sing" Miller, on piano, is 63. Percy Humphrey, on trumpet, is 71 and his big brother Willie Humphrey,

TO PERFORM CANTATA

At School Lenten Service. Stuart School will hold a Lenten Service Wednesday, April 14, at 11 which will involve the lower, middle and upper school choruses. The Trinity Concert Choir, which is composed of young men and women from the Princeton, Lawrenceville, Pennington and Stuart schools, will sing J.S. Bach's Cantata 4, "Christ Lag in Todesbanden."

A chamber ensemble featuring Anne Florey, violin; Lonnie Sue Johnson, viola; Katrina Jones, cello and Mary Kemp, harpsichord, will provide the accompaniment. Other instrumentalists will be Robert Ellis, violin and Kathy Kep, viola. John Kemp will conduct.

JAZZ PIANIST TO PLAY

At Inn Coffeehouse. Bob Greenberg will appear at the Princeton Inn Coffeehouse Thursday evening at 9 in a solo jazz piano performance of original compositions and jazz standards, ranging from Ellington to Corea.

A Princeton University music major from Willingboro, Mr. Greenberg has been playing jazz piano for several years and was formerly a member of the Brookhouse Quintet, a group consisting of members of the community. He is currently leader of the Bob Greenberg Trio.

The public is invited; free refreshments will be served.

CONCERT IS PLANNED

To Celebrate Westminster's 50th. President Ray E. Robinson of Westminster Choir College has announced plans to celebrate its 50th anniversary with a concert May 30 by the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, Robert Shaw conducting.

The concert will feature an all-alumni chorus performing five famous choruses from sacred oratorios, and Beethoven's "Ninth Symphony," all accompanied by the orchestra. It will be held at 3 p.m. in Jadwin Gymnasium, Princeton University. Information concerning tickets and other details will be furnished at a later date. Westminster is 50 years old this year.

Turnpike Taxes $6 Million

Motorists stopping for fuel and food on the New Jersey Turnpike helped to enrich the state's tax coffers to the tune of $6,389,914 during 1975 by payment of motor fuel and sales taxes.

Most of the money coming from Turnpike travelers, $5,644,863.84, was collected in motor fuel taxes on 70.5 million gallons of gasoline and diesel fuels.

State taxes collected on restaurant, gift shop and vending machine sales, as well as cigarette taxes, amounted to $659,816. Another $85,234 was raised in sales taxes on motor oil, tires, batteries and other accessories.

The federal government raised $2,004,892 in motor fuel and cigarette taxes.

All About Consumer Affairs

The Mercer County Division of Consumer Affairs has received numerous complaints about deceptive practices used to sell magazine subscriptions. This is the first of two columns intended to alert you to what you should look out for and to provide suggestions for how to deal with these practices.

Often, The first contact is made by telephone. The caller claims to represent a company that is doing "advertising research." The friendly voice goes on to inquire about your reading habits—specifically, what magazines you enjoy.

Eventually there is an offer for five magazines for only pennies (69¢ or 75¢) a week for 60 months. The offer is usually made in terms that promise something free—perhaps you pay for one magazine and get the rest free; or you pay only for postage, not for the magazines.

Before long a salesman appears on your doorstep, contract in hand. The contract, however, turns out different from the telephone offer. The salesman no longer talks in terms of pennies a week—now it is dollars a month. (Most people, he says, prefer to pay on a monthly basis.)

In one case the salesman called on a customer at her office. On the telephone she had been told the price would be 69¢ a week for 60 months, but the contract now specified $9.00 a month for 22 months. She turned to her adding machine. At the telephone price the total cost would be $179.40; at the contract price, it would be $198.00. Since the contract clearly said, "ABSOLUTELY NO INTEREST OR FINANCE CHARGE," why the difference? The salesman acknowledged the "error" and changed the contract price accordingly.

Apparently the math lesson did not sink in. The company continued to promise magazines at 69¢ a week while writing contracts at a higher price. Finally, the Division of Consumer Affairs pointed out to the company its faulty arithmetic. Since then the telephone pitch apparently has gone up to 75¢ a week and the contract price has dropped $2.00.

The woman spotted something else that was funny about the contract. The names of the magazines she wanted were written in, but not the number of issues she would receive. After smelling two rats, she decided not to subscribe.

In our next installment, we will have suggestions for dealing with magazine solicitors.

Elaine Schuman, a Princeton resident, is director of Mercer County's Division of Consumer Affairs. The Consumer Affairs office is 640 South Broad Street, Trenton, N.J. 08607. The telephone is 989-8000, ext. 615.

CLASSES LISTED

By Art Association. Two well-known artist-teachers will join the faculty of the Princeton Art Association for the spring schedule which offers a wide diversity of classes. Hughie Lee-Smith, whose work is included in the exhibit presently at the University Art Museum, will teach "Figure Painting." Karl Kovacs will teach "Contemporary Sculpture."

Mr. Lee-Smith, a graduate of the Cleveland Institute of Art and of Wayne State University, has taught at Howard University and Trenton State College and is presently on the faculty of the Art Student's League. His work has been shown in many museums including the Museum of Modern Art and the Whitney Museum.

Mr. Kovacs' course will involve the student in producing wood and stone pieces. A graduate of Trenton State College with an MFA from Rutgers, Mr. Kovacs is presently teaching at Middlesex County College and Rutgers University. He has exhibited widely including shows at Corcoran Gallery in Washington and the New Jersey State Museum. Continuing classes include two for young people: "Adventures in Creativity" for ages 7 to 11 with Eva Kaplan (Monday after school) and Elizabeth Monath's "Painting on Saturday Morning" for ages 10 to 15. Those intermediate and advanced students interested in oil and acrylic painting may continue their studies with Frederic Scudder or Marietta Kust. A beginning class in oils and acrylics, taught by Marietta Kust, is also listed.

Lucile Geiser will continue her "Watercolor" classes on Tuesday and Friday. She will also teach a two-hour sketch class, entitled "Uses of the Sketchbook" on Friday afternoon. Beginners in watercolor may learn basic techniques from Paul Levitt on Tuesday evening.

Because of the demand for drawing classes, the PAA has scheduled three in this session. Elizabeth Ruggles will teach two classes in drawing techniques for both the beginner and the experienced student, while Zoltan Buki's "Life Drawing" will continue.

For those students interested in working with clay, Jeanne Pasley's "Sculpture" class is again listed on Thursday morning. Ms. Pasley's extra session demonstrating casting methods has proved to be of great interest to her students. Classes in graphics (printmaking) are scheduled for both the beginner and the intermediate student with Marie Sturken teaching "Beginning Printmaking" and Renee Levine teaching "Printmaking-Intermediate."

The Sunday morning workshop for independent sketching and painting from a nude model will also be offered again. Non-members may attend this workshop at a slightly higher fee.

Membership in the Art Association, which may be taken out at time of registration, is required for participation in classes. More detailed information may be obtained by requesting a brochure from the PAA at 921-9173.

LECTURE SCHEDULED

On Early American Art. The Princeton Art Association will present Rose Schaffer, artist and lecturer, in a talk and slide show on Early American Art at 8 p.m. this Thursday, at its Rosedale Road barn studios. The program is open to the public.

People, places, and events in 18th and 19th century America, as depicted in works of art from many major museums, will be shown in color slide transparencies. Primitive paintings, portraits of famous Americans, western and other landscape schools of painting will be discussed.

Ms. Schaffer, a resident of West Orange, studied at the Art Students' League and with many leading instructors. She has won numerous awards for her paintings and graphics, is a member of the National Association of Women Artists, and is listed in "Who's Who in Art". She is widely known for her lively and informative lectures and demonstrations to schools and organizations, and for her guided tours of museum collections and special exhibits.

Art Teachers Needed

Tbe "Drop-In After School" workshops at the Art Center, Valley Road, need teachers.

Artists in need of studio space and-or pottery equipment are invited to work with school children one afternoon a week in exchange for the use of studio facilities, kilns and potters' wheels. Call 924-0028 to discuss arrangements.

A donation of $1 for PAA members and $1.50 for non-members will be asked.

SPRING TERM SET

At Studio-on-the-Canal. Drawing from the human figure, water color and acrylic painting art workshop sessions are scheduled for the spring term at the Studio-on-the-Canal, beginning March 29.

The program features a new drawing workshop, Hughie Lee-Smith instructing. The course is offered especially for the serious student who wishes to delve into the fundamentals of drawing from the figure with charcoal and pencil, with heavy reliance on academic standards.

Rex Goreleigh's all-media painting workshop is also included; instruction includes still life, landscape and figure painting.

In addition to the workshop instruction, the regular sketch session will continue. Bulletin on request.

SCULPTURE ON DISPLAY

At Cotor Wheel. The Color Wheel, 23B W. Delaware Ave., Pennington, is now displaying an exhibit of wall hangings, collages and fiber sculpture by Betty Park, of Pennington.

Currently teaching at Middlesex County College, Ms. Park has studied at the University of Illinois, Indiana University, the Art Students' League and Penland School of Crafts. Her exhibition record includes four solo shows and several invitationals in which she has displayed her paintings and weavings.

In 1975 she exhibited in "Craft Art 3", Langman Gallery, Jenkintown, Pa.; and she won a merit award in 1976 in the Artists-Craftsmen's Show in New York City. Her work will be included in the "Time-Life" Handicraft Series.

Park's fiber and acrylic pieces are presently sharing the gallery with the ceramic sculpture of Nancy J. Wall.

A new season of art classes is about to begin at the Color Wheel. The spring session includes three evening courses, beginning March 30, and two morning classes will begin two weeks later. On Tuesday evenings Linda Osborne will conduct a class in painting, exploring acrylics and oils.

A second session of Wednesday night watercolor classes will begin on March 31, taught by Harry McCandless. For those interested in experience with drawing, Pat Hutchinson will be instructing a course on Thursday nights, and another on Thursday mornings. A daytime course in painting will also be offered.

All courses are eight weeks and are limited to seven students. Sessions are open to beginners and more advanced students. For more information, call the Color Wheel at 737-1229, or visit the shop and gallery between 9 and 5, Tuesday through Saturday.

Martz Jr., Wesley Mount, Thomas Rooney, Carl H. Sjostrom, Jurgen Teintze, James J. White and Kenneth P. Wilson.

Ladies' Auxiliary of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad will meet at 8 p.m., Monday at the squad building on North Harrison Street. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

The West Windsor Keen-Age Club will hold a covered-dish dinner, Thursday, March 25, at 6 at the First Presbyterian Church of Dutch Neck. Reservations may be made by phoning Alice Caples at 799-0575, Sarah End at 799-2314 or Lucilla Tilton at the West Windsor Branch Library at 799-0462.

Copies of the Special Communicator for Seniors will be distributed at the meeting but may also be picked up at the Library and other locations throughout the Township. Ann Honore of the Princeton Area Red Cross and Jane Kahn, newly-appointed Welfare Director of West Windsor, will be guests at the dinner. Lewis Chamberlin, who served for many years as Township Clerk in West Windsor, has accepted the chairmanship of the committee which is making plans for a Senior Citizens Float to participate in the July 4th Parade sponsored by the Bicentennial Committee in the community.

Two area residents are among the 433 winners in the 12th annual National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students. Laurence J. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Edwards of 110 Cherry Valley Road, has won a renewable corporation-sponsored four year achievement scholarship. A senior at Princeton High School who plans to study engineering, he has been a library page at the Public Library and a participant in the Community Tennis Program.

Robert A. Ellis III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Ellis Jr. of 18 White Pine Lane, has won a one-time National Achievement $1000 Scholarship. Also a student at Princeton High School, he plays first violin in the High School orchestra and was a winner of the Stokes Music Award for Mercer County. He has also been awarded the High School's Gold Key Award for service, is treasurer of the Amateur Radio Club and is active in the YMCA.

Nancy C. Throckmorton of RD 1, Butler Road, has been named to the Dean's Honor List at Union College, Cranford, for the fall semester. She is a nursing student at Muhlenberg Hospital School of Nursing in Plainfield which is affiliated with the college.

Richard A. Hill, Ph.D., who formerly lived on Tyson Lane, has been named to the new position of director of development in the scientific affairs department of the Norwich Pharmacal Company, Norwich, N.Y. Dr. Hill has served as senior research scientist at Squibb Institute for Medical Research for the last 15 years.

Laura M. Wall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wall of 1066 Stuart Road, has been tapped for membership in the Laurel Society at Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Va. She has been a senator for the student government association, a member of the choir, president of her residence hall and a big sister in the volunteer program.

John R. Heher, Rosedale Lane, has been elected president of the Board of Directors of Mercer Medical Center in Trenton. A director of the Medical Center since 1958, he has also been a trustee and treasurer of the New Jersey Hospital Association and in 1975 was the recipient of the Association's Eighth Annual Achievement Award for "exceptional contribution to New Jersey's community hospitals."

Melvin A. Schulman of 124 Snowden Lane, manager, customer service, for the Chemical Division of Thiokol Corporation in Trenton, discussed the role of sealants as a component of insulating glass performance at a recent meeting of the Sealed Insulating Glass Manufacturers Association. Mr. Schulman joined Thiokol in 1959 and is presently manager of technical services for the corporation's Chemical Division which markets specialty polymers. He holds a BS degree in chemical engineering from the City College of New York as well as a master's degree in management from Newark College of Engineering.

Elizabeth Shanefield, 119 Jefferson Road, recently attended the 10th annual convention of Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) in New York City. A charter member of TESOL, she has been a teacher at the Princeton Adult School for eight years and a lecturer in teaching methods for the Princeton-in-Asia program at the University for two years. She is also the TESOL consultant for the Public Library.

Scotts®
"do-it-yourself" lawn care

Let one of our Scotts Lawn Pros show you why it costs less and gets better results.

It's enjoyable, too!

It's that time of year again, when lawnowners are deciding what kind of care they will be giving their lawns this year. We strongly suggest you stop in and talk with one of our Scotts-trained Lawn Pros. He'll map out a personalized program to fit the exact needs of your lawn — a program that will give you good results, because it's designed specifically for your lawn's problems. And because it uses only the finest, Scotts products. Our Lawn Pro will also explain how you'll save money, since you pay only for the products your lawn really needs.

"Do-it-yourself" can be easy!

Once you receive your lawn program, telling you what to do and when to do it, you'll find the whole thing takes remarkably little time. Maybe half an hour, four times a year, for a typical home lawn. In fact, many of our Scotts "Do-it-yourselfers" tell us it has become an enjoyable hobby for them.

Satisfaction Guaranteed

There's nothing to risk with the Scotts "Do-it-yourself" way. Scotts famous guarantee of satisfaction or your money back is printed on every package. The time to start is right now. All it takes is a trip to our store to talk with our Scotts Lawn Pro. His advice is absolutely FREE, and there's no obligation whatsoever.

WORKSHOPS SCHEDULED

In Assertive Training. The Woman's Place, with the Family Service Agency of Princeton, is holding registration for two 8-week programs in Assertive Training for Women. Open to all area women, this is the second series of Assertive Training workshops co-sponsored by the two agencies.

The workshops are designed to help overcome a lifelong socialization to passivity, the anxieties, and feelings of inadequacy that prevent women from directly and effectively going after what they want with friends, employers, relatives and "authority figures." Areas to be dealt with include overcoming fears of rejection, learning to say "no," learning the difference between assertiveness and aggressiveness, and situations of male-female interaction. A variety of exercises and techniques will be used.

The workshops, which run consecutively, will each consist of eight sessions to be held weekly at the Woman's Place. One group will meet Saturday mornings from 10 to 12 beginning this week. The second will meet Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 beginning next week. There is a $50 registration fee. Phone registrations are handled at 921-1369 or 201-446-9180.

The Woman's Place is also sponsoring the workshop, Female Energy and How to Use It, Thursday evenings, 8 to 9:30, for eight weeks beginning March 25. Women will work with a facilitator through self-awareness and body-work exercises from the book, "Getting Clear." The workshop fee is $20. Registration is handled at 921-1369 and is open to all area women.

FLIMFLAM SECURITY

Topic At Senior Luncheon. Guarding against flimflam experts and other security measures for one's self and home will be stressed in a special program for older adults at 11:45 Thursday, March 18, preceding the regular Back-To-School Luncheon at Littlebrook School, Magnolia Lane. The speaker will be Gerald C. Dollar, vice president in charge of security at The First National Bank.

The luncheons are a four year old project co-sponsored by the Council of Community Services, the Princeton Regional Schools and the Princeton Chapter American Red Cross. Reservations and requests for transportation must be made by noon Tuesday with the Red Cross, 924-2404. Price of the fully balanced meal is $1.25. Lunch is served at 1:15.

TEACHERS FEATURED

At YWCA Luncheon. The YWCA will sponsor a luncheon program featuring Princeton High School teachers on Thursday, March 18 at 12:15. The speakers will include Jane Jacobs of the english department, Kathleen de Ben of the social studies department and Frank Francisco of the industrial arts and athletic department.

They will discuss the following questions: What does your department offer students?; How do these offerings fit Princeton Regional School goals?; What would be the plans of your department if more funding were allowed? If less funding were allowed? There will be discussion from the audience following the speakers' presentations.

Working people may leave as they have to. Nursery services are available for children 1 - 5 years. Reservations for lunch and nursery may be made at the YWCA, Avalon Place. Cost of the luncheon is $1.75.

This program is the second of a series of three lunch programs on "Thorough and Efficient (T & E) Education; The Process and the Product" being offered by the Public Affairs-Racial Justice Committee of the YWCA.

Most of us are born with more acute hearing than we need. Nature starts us out with the kind of hearing primitive man needed to keep alert in the presence of invisible dangers. Many people retain acute hearing through long lives, and if, in the second half of life, hearing (especially for high tones) shades off a bit, most experts agree that this is nothing to worry about. But if you have a hearing loss serious enough to be a handicap, by all means do something about it. There are at least 15,000,000 people in the United States that are hard of hearing.

SPORTS FANS! I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Here's an amazing baseball oddity ... When Maury Wills stole 104 bases in the National League in 1962, he stole more bases himself that season than any TEAM in the major leagues ... For example, the entire Minnesota Twins team that year stole only 33 bases ... Wills alone stole 71 more bases than that whole team! ... The club that came closest to Wills in stolen bases that season was Washington, with 99, which was five less than Wills himself stole!

One of the most fantastic basketball records in history was made by Adolph Rupp ... Did you know that in the 42 years he coached basketball teams, Rupp NEVER had a losing season!

Here's an oddity about last year's football season ... All last fall, coaches complained about the NCAA rule that limited the number of players who could be taken to away games; visiting teams weren't allowed to have as many players dressed as home teams, in efforts to save traveling money ... But, oddly enough, home teams, with the new advantage of more players available, posted their worst winning record in five years last season! ... Home teams won only 56.4 percent of all games in 1975 ... In the previous years they had won over 60 percent of all games.

Tigers' Defensive Skills Catch Nation's Eye In One-Point Loss to Rutgers in NCAA Action

When the season ended for Princeton's basketball team at Providence Saturday four seconds before the end of its game with Rutgers, the Tigers found out that Cinderella stories do not come true back to back.

A year ago, they had gone against four consecutive opponents as underdogs, beaten them all and won the National Invitation Tournament. Last week, all that stood between them and the biggest upset of the season was successful conversion of a one-and-one situation.

Possibly the most unusual aspect of the bizarre picture was the fact that Rutgers' proud quintet, 28-and-0 on the year and firm in the belief that it will meet Indiana for the national championship, was powerless to do anything about its impending removal from the NCAA Tournament. When Pete Molloy toed the line for a foul shot, Rutgers' unbeaten status and its hopes for no. 1 ranking in the nation hung entirely in his hands, and its five players lined along the alley were just spectators with another 12,189 paying fans in the Providence Civic Center.

When Molloy's toss — following two consecutive time outs called by Rutgers coach Tom Young to highten the 5-10 guard's pulse beat — hit the back of the rim and bounced into the hands of the Scarlet's Mike Dabney, Rutgers headed for a meeting Thursday with Connecticut at Greensboro, N.C. Princeton went into the record book as the Ivy champion with a 22-5 record and recognition that few teams anywhere have accomplished as much with so little.

Injuries a Factor. Three key players were markedly slowed by injuries–one was just beginning to recover his shooting eye after having missed five late February games. Co-captain Mickey Steuerer had reinjured an ankle that had bothered him all season. His replacement, sophomore Bill Omeltchenko, wore a vicious-looking knee brace to protect a ligament strain that had benched him only a fortnight ago.

Frank Sowinski was still recovering from one of the deepest muscle pulls in Princeton athletic history, one that still affected his mobility and possibly his stamina. Nonetheless, he played a full 40 minutes, equalled All-American Phil Sellers' total of 11 on far better shooting, and was a major factor in holding the Rutgers' star to his lowest total of the year on a 3-for-15 effort.

With the fine personnel that it has, Rutgers was able to compensate for Sellers' sub-par afternoon, largely on a pair of fine performances by its standout guards, Dabney and Ed Jordan. The latter's 7-for-11 shooting led to a game-high 16 points, Dabney adding 13 to give the victors a 29-point backcourt total that far outstripped the 20 accumulated by Princeton's quartet of Armond Hill (14), Steuerer (4), Omeltchenko (2) and Molloy's historic zero.

Hill, predictably, almost did it all, but because he was of necessity so much a part of the action, ran into foul trouble early, sat out nine minutes of the second half and eventually drew his fifth with 4:30 to go. Fully as much as Molloy's missed opportunity, the charging foul that sent Hill to the bench played a part in the final outcome.

Had he been in the game, it would almost certainly have been he who would have either taken the final shot or drawn a foul. Hill was the Ivy League's top free-throw shooter with an 85 percent average. Molloy, 9 for 16 from the line this season, had not seen sufficieot action to make a foul shot since the Alabama game last December.

That Extra Point

In the welter of words employed to describe Rutgers' one-point victory over Princeton at Providence Saturday, little or no mention was made of the technical foul assessed against Rutgers coach Tom Young for misbehavior at courtside.

Frank Sowinski made the shot, the point eventually enabling Princeton to draw within one with four seconds left. Had Pete Molloy then converted on his one-and-one opportunity, the margin of difference – and Rutgers first defeat this year -- would have been debited to the technical foul.

SPORTS In Princeton

First Half Costly. Because the Tigers outscored Rutgers in the second half, 28 to 21, it was a four-minute stretch toward the end of the opening round, during which the Scarlet put 14 points on the board to Princeton's four, that provided just enough for the eventual margin. The Orange and Black twice led by two in the early going, but left the floor at the intermission behind by 33-25.

A 10-point bulge Rutgers held in the first half was matched soon after play resumed, but even when Hill was withdrawn four minutes into the final period, after being whistled for his fourth personal, the Tigers dictated the pace of the contest. The Scarlet had eventually broken the February 2d game open here, when it won 75-62, but never came close to doing so at Providence.

With 8:22 left and Rutgers leading, 48-41, Hill came back to the floor, hit on a jumper a minute later, and the Tigers began to close the gap. Sowinski connected twice on his favorite shot from the right corner, Hill added another and only Jordan's basket and two foul shots kept the Knights afloat.

In the last five minutes, Rutgers did not make a field goal, and Sellers' two free throws at 4:31 were its final points. It is this sort of tendency to clutch in the final minutes of a close game that has nearly cost defeat in the final three contests against St. Bonaventure, St. John's and Princeton, which fills the Scarlet's road to the national title with question marks the size of potholes.

In the closing minutes, baskets by Omeltchenko (a sleeper layup on an inbounds pass) and Barnes Hauptfuhrer (strangely uncontested from the top of the key) narrowed the gap to its final margin of 54-53. Rutgers lost the ball once when Sellers had the ball stolen from him by Hauptfuhrer, and again, with 39 seconds left, when Dabney nearly threw an air ball on the first of a one-and-one opportunity.

No Time Outs Left. Sowinski got the rebound, the Tigers came down court but could not call time out to set up a play because they had none left. Rutgers' close guarding eventually resulted in a foul by Jordan on Molloy – the game's outcome again hanging on the question of whether the Tiger guard had started to shoot when Jordan hit his hand, or not.

The official who called it saw it as one-and-one, but regardless of what he was awarded, Molloy would almost certainly have had to make two to assure a Princeton victory. As Pete Carril said, overtime against Rutgers without Hill would have been a very tough row to hoe.

In Greensboro, Rutgers should find life far more to its liking with Princeton out of its path. The Scarlet will play Connecticut, which it has already beaten, 96-83, and success in Thursday's game will send it against the winner of a matchup between VMI and DePaul. Odds are high that the Scarlet can handle both these teams, and advance to the NCAA semi-finals the following weekend at Philadelphia.

So, the belief is here, could Princeton.

REASONS FOR OPTIMISM

In Tiger Lacrosse Picture. Its opening game with Syracuse snowed out last week, Princeton's lacrosse team will try again Saturday when it travels to northern New Jersey to face Fairleigh-Dickenson. A road contest with Maryland, always one of the tougher teams, is scheduled for the following Saturday, with the first home game bringing Johns Hopkins here on April 3.

The Tigers produced their best record since 1967 last year, posting an 8-6 mark. It was the first time a Princeton team had won eight games since 1953. This year, a large contingent of veterans returns to blend with some strong prospects up from last year's freshman team plus a highly-touted corps of freshmen who will be allowed to play varsity lacrosse this year for the first time. Head coach Art Robinson, however, is cautious.

Sports in Princeton

"We must have both a consistent intensity and determination," Robinson pointed out. "The reason we did not make the playoffs last year was our disastrous 1-4 record in mid-week games.

"If we had played to our full capacity, we could have won at least three of those games. We had a taste of success last year and the 1976 season could be better, but it will be worse if the entire team fails to develop a mental toughness towards every game on the schedule."

Princeton, which was ranked 10th in the nation in '75, lost five key lettermen via graduation, including two time All-American Bill Chaires, who wound-up as the Tigers' third all-time scorer, and 1975 captain and mid-fielder Phil Hooper. However, Robinson has some capable replacements.

On attack, six of last year's leading scorers are back including the number one and two men Wick Sollers (36-25-61) and Dave Tickner (34-25-59), both of whom broke the one-season scoring mark. The other letterman returning is Rich Thomas (26-6-32), who finished fourth in team scoring. Alan Kreisberg, who paced the freshman team in scoring last season (14-16-30), and freshman Charlie Marshall will provide good depth to the attack force.

Improved consistency from letterman Greg Chaires (15-4-19), who was sixth in team scoring last season, and juniors Cal Norman and Hank Kulzer, along with solid play from tri-captains Pete George (15-15-30) and Tom Leyden (7-8-15) and lettermen Carlos Ferrar (1-0-1) and Greg Davis (3-1-4) could overcome the loss of Bill Chaires and Hooper at midfield. The 2-3-4 scorers for last year's freshman team - Bill Mitchell (13-7-20), Ken McNaughton (9-3-12) and Carl Yellon (10-2-12) - should also help. Other good prospects include Bruce Lincoln and Mike Butkus and freshmen Pete Matthews, Tad Stellman and Charlie Jones.

The Tiger defense corps returns almost intact. The returnees include tri-captain Brooks Nelson and lettermen Kevin Lonnie, Dave Victor, Tom Beneville and Sean O'Neill. Robinson feels sophomores Hank Lane and Chris Pistell could also help out quite a bit.

Goaltender Kevin Gray, who started every game last season, while gaining First Team All-Ivy honors, is back for his junior year, but will receive stiff competition from sophomore Carl Wallach, who had an impressive .620 save percentage last season for the 6-3 freshman team, and freshman Tom Grey.

PDS CO-CAPTAINS: Randy Melville, (left) and Mike Walters, the only two returning pleyers from the starting five, have been elected co-ceptains next year. PDS won 20 and lost 3 this year for its best season ever.

CAPTAINS ELECTED

By PDS Teams. Capping off successful seasons for its basketball and hockey teams, the Princeton Day School held its winter sports banquet last week, announcing recipients of various awards and next year's captains.

Coach Alan Taback's basketball team, which finished its best season ever with a record of 20-3, will be led next year by the two remaining starters Randy Melville and Mike Walters. Walters will be a junior next year, Melville a senior.

Taback will lose Frank Konstantynowicz, Billy Martin, Bill Baggitt and reserve player Chris Szuter through graduation, making next season a definite rebuilding year. "We'll be young and experienced next year," Taback commented. "It will present a different kind of challenge from what we faced this year. Our experience this season really paid off in the close games. We didn't lose one."

Winning three tournaments, including the State Class B title for the third year in a row, PDS accomplished just about everything it set out to do, with the exception of its first win over Lawrenceville.

As a team, the Panthers broke another record, holding their opponents to an average of just 51 points per game over the course of the season. "It was a unique team," said Taback. "They were totally unselfish when it came to scoring."

Next season Taback will be counting primarily on three sophomores, Andy Sanford, 6-2, David Barondess and Tim Gill, and 6-3 freshman Jack Smart to fill the gaps caused by graduation. The gaps are not small.

Konstantynowicz, who shared most valuable player honors with Melville, broke the school record for assists for one year with 161, 61 more than the previous record. He became the third player in the school's history to score more than 1,000 points, finishing with a four-year total of 1,092. Mark Ellsworth and Ron Webster are the other two players to top the 1,000-point mark.

Baggitt will be missed for his scoring and rebounding, and Billy Martin for his rebounding and fine defensive play. Chris Szuter, who will also graduate, was the squad's sixth man all season long, and won the award for the most improved player.

Slow Start, Fast Finish. A slow start for the Panthers' hockey team was eventually overcome, and the Blue and White finished strongly, capturing its two-day tournament at the end of the season for a 10-7 mark.

Coach Harry Rulon-Miller will also lose several veteran players through graduation, including, Rich Olsson, Steve Judge, David O'Connor, Jim Daubert, Murray Wilmerding, Tom Moore, Bill Erdman, Jeb Burns, and Mark Blaxill, who won the most improved player award.

Burns led the team in scoring with 19 goals and seven assists. Mark Zwadsky will lead the team next year as captain.

PLANS FORMALIZED

By Soccer Club. The Princeton Soccer Club has formalized its plans for the spring and for the first time will be selecting players for teams which will play other youth clubs on a regular basis.

The Club will continue with its schedule of league competition among teams sponsored by area businesses and will keep a set of standings for all five age groups. In addition, there will be a squad of players 15 years and under, The Tigers, and another squad of those 12 and under, The Lions, which will face opponents from elsewhere in New Jersey and other eastern states.

The players for these two teams will be chosen by the coaches on the basis of performance in regular league competition. The teams will practice twice a week under the supervision of Princeton Soccer Club directors, Richard Broad and Francis Dyckman, and will begin outside play in May.

Tentative plans call for a trip to Annandale and Fairfax, Virginia as well as The Princeton Soccer Club Spring Tournament, Saturday, May 15.

The club's spring program begins Saturday, April 10 at Valley Road School and Gulick Field on the Princeton University campus. This past Saturday, March 13 the Club held its formal registration and an instructional clinic for all coaches.

However, those who were not able to be present can still register by mailing their applications to The Princeton Soccer Club, P.O. Box 71, Dillon Gymnasium, Princeton University, Princeton, N.J. 08540 by Monday. Information sheets and registration forms are available from The Princeton Soccer Club and from coaches and athletic directors at area schools. Further details can be obtained by calling 452-4977 in the day and 924-5613 evenings.

TENNIS LEAGUE SET

For Women Players. The Princeton Recreation Department is in the process of forming a women's competitive tennis league to play at Community Park Courts. Matches will be scheduled on an individual basis by the scheduled teams playing.

The league will be organized according to level of ability. Doubles teams will compete against other teams twice a week. Those interested in registering should be willing to sacrifice the time necessary for playing these matches. Substitutes will not be permitted.

Players will be instated into the league on a first come first serve basis. Those interested must come personally to the recreation office in Room 211, Valley Road School on Monday - Friday between 9 and 5 to fill out the registration form.

It is suggested, but not compulsory, that prospective players contact a player of equal talent for their permanent partner. Non-Resident players who do not have a season ticket should pair up with either a resident or season ticket holder. Daily Admission permits will be accepted at the time of play. It is not necessary to have a season permit to be eligible.

For any additional information, please call the recreation office at 921-9480.

SWIM SEASON PLANNED

For Flying Fish Team. The Flying Fish Swim Team of the Princeton YMCA will sponsor a spring workout program for members of the 1975-76 team and for others who may be interested. The program, under the direction of Janet Shivers, will begin Monday and continue through June 12. Workouts will be based on individual ability.

Deadline for registration is Tuesday with a limit of 28. For more information and registration forms, contact the YMCA at 924-4825.

SOFTBALL PLANNED

For Men and Women. An organizational meeting of the Men's Slow-Pitch Softball League will be held on Thursday, March 25, at 7:30 in the Recreation Department Office, Room 210, Valley Road School.

Those interested in having a team in the league this year are asked to have a representative at the meeting.

The Department will sponsor a Women's Softball League for women 16 and over. It will run from 8 to 10 weeks and games will be scheduled at Grover Park.

Teams interested in joining should call the department at 921-9480 before April 2. An organizational meeting will then be scheduled to discuss rules, regulations and entrance fees. Individuals who are not involved with a team and are interested in playing softball should also contact the department.

PAYTON IS NAMED

To Penn-Jersey All Stars. Ron Payton, the 6-4 sophomore center of the Hun School basketball team who has already scored more than 1,000 points, has been named to the Penn-Jersey League all-star first team. He averaged 20 points a game this season.

Joining Payton on the team from this area is Bob Potts of Pennington School, who scored more than 700 this year in posting a 25-point average. Terry McEwen, senior guard for Hun who averaged 12 per game and Pennington's 6-5, center Reece Cramer, were named to the second team. Nick Brady of Hun and Ron Granville of Pennington received honorable mention.

Pennington defeated Hun for the regular season league title and again in a playoff for the league championship.

JACK PETRONE HONORED

At Sports Banquet. Jack Petrone – 'Sergeant' to some, sports champion to others – will be one of several sports figures honored at the annual awards banquet of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Monday evening at 7:30 at Princeton University's Cloister Hall, 21 Nassau Street.

Petrone was presented with the organization's Amateur Award which also honored university and high-school scholar-athletes.

In a sense, Petrone has three careers. He has been a member of the Township police department since 1955; he is owner of Center Sports in the Princeton Shopping Center, and he has been instrumental in founding and guiding several sports programs for boys in Princeton.

The father of five boys, Petrone formed the Princeton Youth Baseball League in 1959, starting with four teams and 45 boys. A year later, he organized a four-team Little League program for boys 9-12. That league, now doubled in size, is still active and provides baseball for 250 boys each summer.

His activity in the sport led to the establishment of a Babe Ruth League in Princeton, a senior Babe Ruth League and development of the Princeton Post 76 American Legion Team.

In 1964, Petrone was instrumental in starting the Princeton Midget Football League which teaches fundamental skills to boys 9 to 13. Today, he serves as commissioner of the league which has grown to four senior teams and five more in a junior division.

Three years ago, Petrone was one of six policemen in the country awarded a plaque by the National Pop Warner Junior Football League for distinguished achievement. TOWN TOPICS, in 1961, named him its "Man of the Week" for "his recognition of boys' needs for leadership, his uncounted hours as a volunteer...and for setting an outstanding example for the youth of the community."

JACK PETRONE HONORED: Jack Petrone will be honored Monday evening at an awards banquet for his many years' work in organizing and overseeing sports programs for Princeton youths. Story this page.

Sports played a major role in his own youth. He was a member of the 1941 St. Paul's School basketball team which won the Parochial Schools Invitational Tournament. At Princeton High he participated in football, basketball, track and baseball.

In 1945-46, he was blocking back on coach Harold Poore's state championship football team at Pennington, where he also played guard on the basketball team and second base on the baseball team.

His baseball ability had drawn the interest of major league scouts but any possible diamond career was ended by his enlisting in the Army in 1946. He still managed, however, to play in the service. He was unanimous choice for all-Fourth Army football team and was named Most Outstanding Player in a semi-pro baseball tournament in Texas while he was stationed at Fort Sam Houston.

Today he is a member of Springdale Golf Club (where he shoots in the low 80s) and is a 180 bowler.

2 SWIMMERS QUALIFY

For National Meet. Two members of the Princeton Aquatic Association qualified for the AAU Nationals to be held in Long Branch, Calif., following an AAU Regional meet held Friday and Sunday at Dillon Pool on the Princeton University campus.

Lisa Van Pelt, 17, finished first in the 100-yard backstroke Friday with a clocking of 59.8 and Martha Kinney, 18, second, in 1:00.4. Cut-off time for the nationals is 1:00.7.

In the 200-yard backstroke Sunday, Martha was awarded second place by a judges' decision. Her time of 2:09.6 was one-tenth of a second faster than that of Gina Layton of Stanford, Conn., who was awarded first place. An observer explained that electronic touch plates were not being used.

Lisa posted a fine qualifying time of 2:08.8 but came in fourth in the finals with 2:12. However, both girls qualified for the event in the nationals which has a cutoff time of 2:10.8.

Beaver O'Hara, a PAA member and student at Peddie, finished second in the 100-yard freestyle (47.2) and second in the 500 free (4:38.4). He also qualified for the Nationals at the Eastern Interscholastic Prep and High School meet held last month at Lawrenceville in the 100 and 200-yard free. His times were 46.5 and 1:41.4.

Two for Relay Team. In Junior Olympic Relays held at Peddie March 7, an eight and under relay team comprised of Arthur Seaman, Ronnie Epstein, Timmy McDougald and David Dolotta won the 100-yard medley relay in 1:15 and the 100-yard freestyle relay in 1:04. All are PAA members.

At an AAU "B" meet held Saturday and Sunday at the Westfield Y and Union Boys Club, PAA swimmer Tania Wronski won three events in the girls 10 and under competition. She captured the 50-yard backstroke, 100-yard free and 200-yard individual medley. She also placed third in the 50-yard butterfly.

Swimming in the 11-12 age bracket, Eric Breisacher won the 50-yard breaststroke and took a third in the 200-yard free. Jessica Feinberg won the girls 11-12 50-yard breaststroke (teammate Julie Ellis was seven-tenths of a second behind for second place) and Liz Feinberg won the girls 13-14 100-yard breaststroke.

Eight and Under. In the fifth annual eight and under Invitational Championship Meet held at the Westfield Y pool this month, the PAA boys captured second in the overall team standings with 138 points; the girls were fifth with 49.

The only two firsts won by the PAA swimmers were earned by the relay team of McDougald, Dolotta Epstein and Seaman. They won the free relay in 1:03.2 and 100-yard medley relay in 1:16.2. McDougald finished second in the 50-yard free and third in the 25-yard backstroke.

Midget Baseball Sign-Up

Registration for the 27th annual YMCA Midget League Baseball season is now in progress. Any boy or girl who will be 10 by June 30, but not 13 is eligible.

Practices will begin the first week in April with league games starting the week of April 19. All teams will play two games per week on weekday evenings. The two league champions will compete in a World Series May 24, 25 and 26.

Registration will end next Wednesday. For further information and baseball contracts, call the YMCA at 924-4825.

SMOYER TROPHY WINNER: Mike Shannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.V. Shannon Jr. of Cherry Hill Road, holds the William Smoyer Trophy, given each year since 1969 to a 14-year old Pee—Wee Hockey player who has worked his way up in the program with sportsmanship and perseverance. The award is named for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smoyer of Olden Lane, who was killed in Vietnam in 1968 and who got his start as a stand-out hockey player at Dartmouth from the Pee—Wee program. Fritz Blaicher, this year's director, made the award Saturday.
